General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will be provided with a framework for the development and application of agricultural breeding strategies, and application of modern genetic selection tools. You will be introduced to a broad overview of genetic selection tools, whilst learning how to select, monitor and evaluate a breeding program. Finally, you will consider the ethical and social implications of genetic modification and how this might influence management decisions.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Usefulness of assessment feedback was agreed by most students.

Recommendation

Consider reviewing all rubrics and marking guides to ensure evaluation feedback for "useful feedback" continues to improve.

Feedback from Student feedback during residential schools

Feedback

Residential schools were an invaluable learning experience.

Recommendation

Continue offering hands-on opportunities.

Feedback from Student feedback in-class

Feedback

The duration of lectures in short, "bite-size" chunks was a favourable format for most students.

Recommendation

Take into account student preferences for small amounts of learning at a time when updates are made to lecture and tutorial material.
