General Information

Overview

This unit will provide you with a holistic approach to evaluating, maintaining and addressing animal health concerns in a variety of settings, with a particular focus on livestock industries. You will learn about the diagnosis, treatment, prevention and epidemiology of animal diseases, including selected exotic and zoonotic diseases. You will apply knowledge of the importance of animal health to the economy and society. You will develop practical and technical skills that can be used to address animal health challenges and safeguard biosecurity from the local to international level.
