General Information

Overview

In this unit you will develop a broad understanding of rural and remote health and the role that health professionals play within this context. You will identify and evaluate current issues and priorities for rural and remote health from a range of stakeholder perspectives. Finally, you will develop an applied project that requires you to exercise your critical thinking and problem-solving skills to generate new and innovative solutions to current rural and remote inequities.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit Evaluation

Feedback

Some students questioned the relevance of the unit content if they do not intend to work in those settings

Recommendation

Include examples of rural patients using metro health services to show relevance; emphasising that all professionals may work with rural clients/patients, highlighting the importance of understanding diverse healthcare needs.
