Term 2 - 2022

Profile information current as at 28/04/2024 09:34 am

All details in this unit profile for AVAT11008 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

Air Transportation provides a comprehensive introduction to the theory and practice of air transportation management, including consideration of the regulatory regime and institutions that structure the development and operation of global air services and aviation activities in different world regions. You will develop a good understanding of the broader issues affecting air transportation at an international and local level for both government and service operators. Additionally, you will gain insights into wider business issues and operational challenges relating to this highly regulated and complex industry.

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

2 Online Discussion Forum

Assessment Type
Online discussion forum

Task Description
There will be 3 online discussion forums throughout the term contributing 30% to the final assessment. They will be undertaken online and be due at approximately four-week intervals as given on the Moodle site. The online-discussion forum will focus on information technology competence and information literacy, where students need to use the unit content as well as a moderate amount of information to discuss and debate the relevant topics. Students are required to post an article related to the topic and give comments on their own article and other students' articles in the online discussion forum.

Task: The online-discussion forum will focus on information technology competence and information literacy, where students need to use the unit content as well as a moderate amount of information to discuss and debate the relevant topics. Students are required to post an article related to the topic and give comments on their own article and other students' articles in the online discussion forum.

Criteria: Successfully discussion and analysis essentially refer to the information and content that you include in your report; in many ways this is the story or narrative that you develop from start to finish. Analysis basically asks and answers the question "why"? Why is this information important in addressing the topic? Analysis helps to strengthen arguments by building a strong case – often it is achieved by acknowledging key differing arguments, but then developing a strong argument or angle for an assignment in the process – like a spine with attached and acknowledged counter arguments along the way. Comparing and contrasting are typically used to conduct analysis, with words like however, in contrast, similarly, likewise, but (and so forth) used throughout to link and generate ideas, concepts, viewpoints and arguments.

3 Final Online Test

Assessment Type
Online Test

Task Description
The final online test is a summative assessment contributing 40% to the final assessment, where students will get random questions of the same exam pattern, concentrating on evaluating the student's understanding of the topic. Students are expected to conduct an actual comprehension of the content being learned by themselves and thus a better representation of their academic progress. The online test is an open-book (Restricted) test and consists of MULTIPLE CHOICE QUESTIONS, SHORT ANSWERS, AND EXTENDED ANSWERS.

Assessment Due Date

During the examination period and will be reaffirmed in the Lectures

Return Date to Students

Two weeks after submission

Weighting

Assessment Criteria
The MULTIPLE CHOICE QUESTIONS and SHORT ANSWERS sections are simple correct or incorrect answers. The EXTENDED ANSWERS section is marked according to the requirement of successful discussion and analysis which refer to the information and content that you include in your argument; in many ways this is the story or narrative that you develop from start to finish. Analysis basically asks and answers the question "why"? Why is this information important in addressing the topic? Analysis helps to strengthen arguments by building a strong case – often it is achieved by acknowledging key differing arguments, but then developing a strong argument or angle for an assignment in the process – like a spine with attached and acknowledged counter arguments along the way. Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?
A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?
A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?
For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre (ALC) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
