BLAR12036 Building Design 1

Term 2 - 2024

Profile information current as at 28/04/2024 01:04 am

All details in this unit profile for BLAR12036 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

Building Design 1 will introduce you to creative design as a process of investigation, critical observation and experimentation. You will be introduced to the client briefing process as well as to basic aesthetic and sustainable design principles and their application to the design of low rise residential and commercial buildings. By engaging in a series of short design-based projects that involve critiquing, listening consciously, researching and creatively solving design problems, you will learn how to create spatial environments that are conducive to human well-being and that meet stakeholder requirements.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Evaluations

Feedback

Students reported that the subject is very large compared to the other units in the course.

Recommendation

It is recommended that a review is undertaken at course level to explore ways to address this issue.

Feedback from Student Evaluations

Feedback

Students reported that the weekly activities helped to gain an understanding of the theoretical knowledge that was then applied in the design assessments.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the weekly activities continue to be offered.

Feedback from Student Evaluations

Feedback

Students reported that the feedback received on their draft design projects was helpful and essential to shaping their understanding and approach to the design process.

Recommendation

Feedback will continue to be offered on draft design projects.
