BLAR12036 Building Design 1

Term 2 - 2026

Profile information current as at 05/12/2025 02:50 pm

All details in this unit profile for BLAR12036 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

Building Design 1 will introduce you to creative design as a process of investigation, critical observation and experimentation. You will be introduced to the client briefing process as well as to basic aesthetic and sustainable design principles and their application to the design of low rise residential and commercial buildings. By engaging in a series of short design-based projects that involve critiquing, listening consciously, researching and creatively solving design problems, you will learn how to create spatial environments that are conducive to human well-being and that meet stakeholder requirements.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE Feedback

Feedback

The workload and content covered is far higher compared to other units in the course.

Recommendation

A review is underway to identify how the unit content can be delivered across the course to ease the workload in this unit.

Feedback from SUTE Feedback

Feedback

This is a very interaction intensive subject involving a lot of forum-based activities and feedback sessions that make the unit interesting and also require good time management skills.

Recommendation

The unit is a design studio unit and will remain interactive. to support student learning. The forum based activities and feedback session will continue to be offered. It is recommended that students start each assessment early and participate in the activities that are offered to maximise their learning.
