General Information

Overview

This unit supports you in identifying and developing core professional practices and skills required by all graduates to succeed in the future world of work. You will learn about core foundation disciplines; develop study, organizational, and planning skills; and learn about your strengths and weaknesses. These disciplines and skills will develop your understanding of how these are connected to your future career choices. You will explore your chosen profession and career opportunities, planning your course and study path to develop the knowledge and skills needed to achieve your career goals. Throughout this unit, your academic and critical thinking skills will be enhanced creating opportunities to effectively engage in future studies. You will commence building an e-portfolio in this unit to showcase your academic and professional work, projects, and competencies to prospective employers. The e-portfolio will record discipline-based contextual practice that will prepare you well for study, work, and engagement as a global citizen contributing to communities and industry.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Students valued the practical knowledge and professional skills developed through the unit, particularly where learning was connected to real-world and career contexts.

Recommendation

Continue incorporating practical activities and real-world examples across different disciplines and career pathways. This will help students connect professional skills development with their studies and future careers and maintain the strong practical focus of the unit.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Students indicated that clear and constructive assessment feedback is important in helping them understand their progress and how they can improve their future work.

Recommendation

Continue strengthening assessment feedback by providing clear, constructive and actionable comments that recognise students' strengths and provide guidance for further development. Feedback should support students in applying what they have learned to future assessments and their ongoing academic development.
