Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Unit and Teaching Evaluation

Feedback

Foster more student interaction.

Recommendation

Explore the use of interactive learning tools, such as coding simulators or web development sandboxes, which can encourage collaborative and engaging learning experiences among students.

Feedback

Web design could material could start earlier.

Recommendation

Consider introducing HTML by Week 4 and shifting the current Week 4 materials, which focus on Usability Testing, to the last week. This change could facilitate an earlier start on the final assessment.
