Term 1 - 2021

Profile information current as at 03/05/2024 09:10 am

All details in this unit profile for COIT20254 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This integrative capstone unit for the Master of Information Systems course is designed so that you can demonstrate your learning across the whole course of study before making the transition to the next stage of your career. You will undertake an authentic task group project or an industry project that demonstrates the skills that you have developed throughout your studies in this course. Through conceptual thinking and innovative analysis to troubleshoot a complex problem, you will use and document typical project management processes, demonstrate information systems domain knowledge, and in the process, develop several documents that can be included in a work portfolio to assist future employment. You will conduct a computing group project, demonstrate your skills in producing relevant analysis and process modelling artefacts and generate a project report based on established principles. Working collaboratively within a team, you will identify the needs of diverse stakeholders, produce typical project management artefacts associated with a commercial systems development project, communicate regularly, participate in technical progress meetings, and far better manage change.

Assessment Tasks

1 Final Project Report, Draft Project Report, Project Proposal and Plan, Progress Report, Project Working Documentation and SPA

Assessment Type

Practical and Written Assessment

Task Description

This is the major assessment for your project and comprises six parts: project proposal and plan, progress report, draft project report, final project report, project working documentation (team meeting agenda, minutes, action sheet and project working papers), and the Self and Peer Assessment (SPA).

In this major assessment, you are required to form a group (up to four members but no less than three and subject to class size) and demonstrate the skills and knowledge that you have developed in earlier information systems specialisation units and apply these skills and knowledge to an industry project or a case-based project. Projects are subject to the approval of the project facilitator who may be the unit coordinator or the campus lecturer. As noted in the Weekly Schedule, each team should have three to four members.

You are strongly recommended to source your own project instead of using a case study. With the permission of your employer, your project can be based on your workplace. Your project should be of sufficient complexity so that you can demonstrate your knowledge, but still be small enough to complete it within the term. If you are in doubt, please contact the unit coordinator or your campus lecturer.

As a group, you are required to write a comprehensive report on your project. You are expected to demonstrate knowledge, innovative thinking, and analytical skills through the conduct of your group project addressing the production of a project plan, project working documentation, together with appropriate project artefacts such as design documentation and an implementation plan, as part of your project report. In your project report, you need to evaluate and analyse current business information systems, processes and applications, and propose improvements (including a prototype solution for an identified problem or opportunity based on your project requirement). The project will have a designated customer, and you will be required to produce the typical project management artefacts associated with your chosen industry or case-based project.

Note: Please contact the unit coordinator if you have a genuine problem and are unable to participate in a group.

You are encouraged to use innovative ideas and imagination to produce a high-level project outcome, and demonstrate your learning and integration and incorporation of knowledge from prior units undertaken in your study course. This assessment is as an excellent opportunity to link theoretical knowledge with a practical chosen industry (or a case) project to help you to be more competitive in the real-world environment.

Please refer to the Moodle unit website for more detailed information in relation to this assessment.

Assessment Due Date

As per weekly schedule and day and time as shown on the Moodle assignment submission page.

Return Date to Students

Final Report, Working Documentation and SPA on the day of Certification of Grades. All other items within two weeks of submission.

70%

Assessment Criteria

Reports and proposals are to be uploaded as Microsoft Word documents. You may also upload Microsoft Project and Microsoft Excel documents to support your work. No other type of upload will be accepted, with the exception of a ZIP file for Project Working Documentation.

Project Proposal and Plan - 10%

The proposal and plan will include sections for the project description, project scope, objectives and constraints, statement of work, work breakdown structure, Gantt chart, risk assessment, quality plan, team structure, roles and responsibilities matrix, and project schedule.

Progress Report - 5%

A progress report is to be submitted halfway through the term.

Draft Project Report 10%

- Project title page
- Executive summary
- Table of contents
- Introduction
- Project management overview
- Team structure
- Project analysis (including but not limited to strategic alignment, stakeholder analysis and management plan)

- Conclusion and recommendations

Final Project Report - 35%

The report is to consist of at least the following content:

- Project title page
- Executive summary
- Table of contents

- Discussions (of candidate solution evaluation, proposed improvement or solutions including process models, and prototype design)
- Conclusions and Recommendations
- References
- Appendix (optional)

Project Working Documentation - 5%

The team's project working documentation includes team meeting agenda, minutes arising from the various meetings, action sheet items and project working papers.

Self and Peer Assessment - 5%

2 ePortfolio

Assessment Type

Portfolio

Task Description

This is an individual assessment.

An e-portfolio is a learning tool that enables students to accumulate evidence of learning achievement. In this unit, you will use Portfolio as a learning tool to record your portfolio entries. As part of the reflective component of this unit, you are required to develop a Project Portfolio with ten entries on a weekly basis starting from Week 2 of the term until Week 11. The ePortfolio is to be a record of every activity undertaken by you in developing the project. The entries will be a weekly discussion and reflection of your learning based on the project tasks you undertake and an identification of any gaps in your knowledge and strategies to correct these gaps.

Please refer to the Moodle unit website for more details of this assessment and detailed instructions on how to use Portfolium.

Assessment Due Date

As per weekly schedule and day and time as shown on the Moodle assignment submission page.

You will be assessed on the demonstration of knowledge and understanding of the topic, contribution to the project, communication skills and identified knowledge gaps. Please see the Moodle unit website for more specific marking criteria.

Failure to submit a portfolio will disadvantage your overall marks.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
