Term 2 - 2018

Profile information current as at 07/05/2024 05:21 am

All details in this unit profile for COMM12016 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit aims to provide you with a range of perspectives on Australian and international media industries. It analyses contemporary and political contexts, important issues such as media ownership and diversity, courses and independence, as well as identifying professional and technological changes in media practices and organisations. The unit encourages an understanding of the institutions and industries in which media practitioners work, and promotes student research and writing skills in order to further their training and awareness.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

You may wish to view these policies:

This list is not an exhaustive list of all University policies. The full list of University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student evaluation

Feedback

Some students, particularly Digital Media students, felt that the assignments were confusing and lacked written instructions.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the prerequisite of JOUR11005 be added to the unit.

Feedback from Professional communication planning day, December 2017.

Feedback

The handbook description may benefit from a revamp and the unit itself requires updating.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the unit be reviewed for potential updates.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Analyse examples of contemporary journalistic practice at international levels.
2. Review how controversial current affairs are treated by Australian and international media.
3. Critically evaluate the effect of social media and technological development on media industry policies and ethics.

Schedule

Week 1 - 09 Jul 2018

Module/Topic	Chapter	Events and Submissions/Topic
Week 1: Introducing Media Industries What is mass media? How does it impact our daily lives? We start our study of media industries by refreshing our memory as to what the media is, and how it is connected to our daily lives.	Chapter 1 - The Public Sphere Chapter 2 - The First Mass Medium Plus additional readings on Moodle

Week 2 - 16 Jul 2018

Module/Topic	Chapter	Events and Submissions/Topic
--------------	---------	------------------------------

Week 2: Media Industries in the Digital Era

The way we consume news and media has evolved in the digital era. As journalists, we need to know how this affects our role in society and in shaping culture, particularly with the rise of citizen journalism and social media.

Chapter 3 - The Fourth Estate
Chapter 4 - The Digital and Social Media Environment
Plus additional readings on Moodle

Week 5: The Making of the News - Part 1

Journalists have plenty of power when they are shaping the news – but each different medium works within a very specific set of restrictions. This week we go back to the basics of news values, with emphasis on how cultural influences and format restrictions shape the news we consume.

Chapter 12 - News Values and News Culture in a Changing World
Chapter 13 - Broadcast News: Keep it Simple
Plus additional readings on Moodle

Week 7: Media, Meaning and Influence

Every bit of media that we consume has some kind of meaning. Now that we have analysed the 'how' of news making, we take a deeper look at the 'why', and the influence that news has on us.

Chapter 9 - Media Texts
Chapter 10 - Audiences and Representations
Plus additional readings on Moodle

Week 8 - 03 Sep 2018

Module/Topic	Chapter	Events and Submissions/Topic
Week 8: Ethics in Media Industries As creators of news, journalists have a clear responsibility to act in an ethical manner. People take 'the news' as fact, so ethical researching, writing and reporting is of great importance. This week we look at ethics regulations and obligations.	Chapter 17 - Ethics in Communication Plus additional readings on Moodle

Week 9 - 10 Sep 2018

Module/Topic	Chapter	Events and Submissions/Topic
Week 9: Law in Media Industries Journalists have a responsibility to obey the law. But with a changing digital media landscape, the legal landscape is changing as well. This week we look at the laws that apply to journalists in Australia, including those that have changed and been brought into the spotlight in recent years.	Chapter 18 - Media Practice, Industry Change and the Law Plus additional readings on Moodle	Report Due: Week 9 Friday (14 Sept 2018) 6:00 pm AEST

Week 10 - 17 Sep 2018

Module/Topic	Chapter	Events and Submissions/Topic
Week 10: Media Convergence Convergence is an important topic to round out this unit, as we have seen a change in relationships and a blurring of lines between different media in our digital age. This week's content covers media convergence for both Australia and the globe at large.	Chapter 19 - Convergence Plus additional readings on Moodle

Week 11 - 24 Sep 2018

Module/Topic	Chapter	Events and Submissions/Topic
Week 11: Media Industries and Social Change Postmodernity is about taking an alternative perspective and breaking with tradition. In this unit, we've seen how media industries have changed over the past decades. For the final unit of the term we look to the future and examine how we can challenge the traditions of media industries for a better world and social change.	Chapter 20 - Postmodernity Plus additional readings on Moodle

Assessment Tasks

1 Case Study and Discussion

Assessment Type

Group Discussion

Task Description

Case Study: 1000 words (+/- 10%), 20 marks

Select and research one of the following topics, examining the change between old and new media.

By the end of Week 3, you will post your topic and an outline of your case study (including two proposed sources) to the Assessment 1 Discussion Forum on Moodle. You will also provide feedback on at least one other student's outline, using the guidelines provided in the Discussion Forum.

Topic 1

Twitter gives nearly anyone the chance to report live on breaking news, regardless of traditional publication deadlines. But what did people do before Twitter? Examine how social media has changed citizen journalism and the news cycle.

Topic 2

Watch The Greatest Showman (2018). Examine how press agency/news values played a part in PT Barnum's success, and discuss what might have happened if the same tactics were used in today's media landscape.

Topic 3

Are podcasts the new radio? Examine the podcast format and compare it to radio, with particular reference to the rise of digital media.

Your case study will be presented in an academic essay format.

More specific information about task details will be available in Moodle > Assessment Details.

Assessment Due Date

2 Report

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Report: 1500-2000 words, 35 marks

In this assessment, you will analyse how the news is made. Find one story that was covered by the broadcast news (TV or radio), newspaper, and an online news site (bonus points if you can also find the original media release for comparison).

In your report, you will compare the coverage of this story across different media, looking at:

- A summary of the article
- Did the news values change?
- Did the audience and targeting of the story change?
- Was the story covered internationally? Why or why not?
- Were the key messages different?
- How did the story change across different media?
- Was any 'important' information left out?

This report will be presented in a professional format, in line with the academic report style.

More specific information about task details will be available in Moodle > Assessment Details.

Assessment Due Date

3 Op-ed and Justification

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Op-Ed and Justification: 2200 – 2500 words , 45 marks

This assessment focuses on analysing how the media shapes our conversations, given the rise of opinion-based writing, fake news and citizen journalism.

Part A: Alternative Op-Eds

Your task is to identify an op-ed piece in the news (broadcast, online or newspaper). An op-ed is a piece of writing which articulates a personal opinion, rather than the balanced reporting of a journalistic piece.

In response to the op-ed, you will craft a reply piece presenting an alternative view, while maintaining the same style as the original piece.

Following your alternative response, you will craft a second opinion piece, finding a different angle again to the first two pieces.

Your two response op-eds will each be 500 words long.

Part B: Justification

In addition to this response, you will write a 1,200 – 1,500 word justification of your choices, including (but not limited to):

- Why you chose the original piece
- Your adopted writing styles
- What medium would be most appropriate for your responses
- Your choice of alternative angles and how this theoretically shapes the conversation
- How your responses might influence the audience's perspective
- Any ethical or legal considerations in your responses
- Whether or not your pieces would be published in the same place as the original

Your justification will incorporate academic sources and show evidence of research into news values, media industries and modern journalistic practices.

Part C: Editing

It is expected that you will spend a significant amount of time editing your op-ed for style, language and readability. An editing checklist will help you with this, and you will submit your completed editing checklist along with the final assignment.

All three parts will be submitted together as a single Word document and uploaded to Moodle on the due date.

More specific information about task details will be available in Moodle > Assessment Details.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
