General Information

Overview

This research capstone unit enables you to apply the theories, content knowledge and skills you have learned to researching a problem of concern to a regulatory agency, criminal justice agency, government or other organisation involved in the prevention or regulation of criminal activity. You will develop a practical research project that will be conducted during a single term and be responsible for each of the methodological stages including developing a research question, understanding the ethical context, planning, project management, conduct of research, delivery and dissemination. You will keep a portfolio of key documents and reflect on skills and capabilities necessary for professional research practice in the field of criminology.

Assessment Tasks

1 Research Proposal: Literature Review

Assessment Type

Literature Review or Systematic Review

Task Description

A research proposal is the first stage in a research study. Proposals are written for a variety of audiences, usually as an application for funding and also for industry to demonstrate potential to solve a problem or address an issue they have encountered. This research proposal will be intended for a:

- regulatory agency,
- criminal justice agency,
- government department,
- non-governmental organisation (NGO),
- other organisation

You can choose any organisation; however, it must be involved in the prevention or regulation of criminal activity, have a special interest in activities currently classified as criminalised, or to support victims of crime.

You will then select a research topic from those provided in the live class and found on moodle after class.

A suggested structure and additional information is found on moodle.

2 Research Proposal: Section and Presentation tasks

Assessment Type

Report

Task Description

This assessment is broken down into three parts.

Part One: Research Proposal: Methodology 30%

Part Two: Research Proposal: Accessible Summary 20%

Part Three: Research Proposal: Presentation 20%

Totaling: 70%

Part One: Methodology

This assessment is a continuation of the 'Research Proposal: Literature Review' assessment completed earlier in the term. This part of the research proposal focuses on the methodology and ethics of the proposed research. This assessment must be written about the research proposed in the earlier assessment: you cannot change your research focus at this stage.

Part Two: Accessible Summary

The purpose of writing an accessible summary is to concisely explain your work in a way that a non-academic audience can understand. For this assessment, you will need to write about your research proposal in an accessible way aimed at the organisation you have identified. This means you will need to explain the research problem you have aimed to address with your proposal, along with how you intend to carry out the research.

Part Three: Presentation

This part of the research proposal requires students to produce a video presentation that explains their proposed research to an audience of experts from the selected organisation. The research proposal must be thoroughly explained using non-technical language and in an accessible way. Where technical language is used (such as when explaining the analysis), terminology must be explained. Think carefully about how to communicate your proposed work to a non-academic audience.

Assessment Due Date

Each part of this assessment has a separate due date. See moodle for more information.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
