

DCHA20003 Cognitive and Sensory Changes and Age

Term 1 - 2020

Profile information current as at 03/05/2024 08:45 am

All details in this unit profile for DCHA20003 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit explores how the human body changes as we age, including differentiating between normal ageing processes and those associated with disease. You will discover how ageing impacts individuals' ability to communicate and participate socially and in service provision contexts. Having an understanding of the ageing process and the underlying physiological mechanisms will give you an essential foundation to work well with older people and create strategies to promote healthy ageing. This unit will encourage you to self-reflect on your own professional practice and generate evidence based solutions to enhance service provision.

Pre-requisites or Co-requisites

There are no requisites for this unit.

Important note: Students enrolled in a subsequent unit who failed their pre-requisite unit, should drop the subsequent unit before the census date or within 10 working days of Fail grade notification. Students who do not drop the unit in this timeframe cannot later drop the unit without academic and financial liability. See details in the Assessment Policy and Procedure \(Higher Education Coursework\).

Offerings For Term 1 - 2020

- Online

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Class and Assessment Overview

Recommended Student Time Commitment

Each 6-credit Postgraduate unit at CQUniversity requires an overall time commitment of an average of 12.5 hours of study per week, making a total of 150 hours for the unit.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

You may wish to view these policies:

This list is not an exhaustive list of all University policies. The full list of University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit Coordinator

Feedback

The learning content will be reviewed, modified and updated to reflect the current requirements of the new Master of Gerontology course.

Recommendation

Integration of the learning materials and content from this unit for the Master of Gerontology course will occur with reflection on components that are specifically aligned with the overall learning outcomes of this course in Gerontology.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Differentiate between cognitive and sensory changes associated with the normal ageing processes and those related to chronic and acute illnesses
2. Examine the implications of sensory and cognitive changes on communication
3. Critically appraise common strategies used to manage communication difficulties against best practice principles
4. Develop communication strategies to enhance and promote respect and personhood.

Assessment Tasks

1 Written Assessment - 1200 words

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Objectives

This assessment item relates to unit learning outcome 1.

(1) Differentiate between cognitive and sensory changes associated with the normal ageing processes and those related to chronic and acute illnesses.

This essay requires you to investigate and discuss any social factors that lead to higher cognitive and sensory function over the lifespan and how these can contribute and support healthy ageing.

Requirements

Tasks:

1.0 Identify and discuss some of the cognitive and sensory changes that occur over the lifespan and the influence of these on healthy ageing.

2.0 Consider and critically examine any social factors that may influence higher cognitive and sensory function by delaying the adverse effects of these as an individual ages.

3.0 Make recommendations for individuals to find opportunities to support their social needs and increase social engagement over the lifespan.

Submission

Please write your submission using the following presentation style and format, then upload it onto the DCHA20003 Moodle website using the Assessment 1 link in the Assessment box.

Note: Your assessment is to be submitted as a word document. It must be a final draft (no comments or tracked changes).

Presentation

Line spacing should be set to 2.0. The preferred font size is 12 point (TNR or Arial). Pages should be placed in the top right-hand corner of each page. Title page has no page number; Page numbering begins at the Introduction and includes the References list pages.

Title page

A cover page with a unit code, assessment number, the proposed title of the assessment, your name, student number, student email address, name of the course (Master of Gerontology, Graduate Certificate in Gerontology, Graduate Diploma of Gerontology, Graduate Certificate in Healthy Ageing or Graduate Diploma of Healthy Ageing), Referencing style: APA 6th, due date, word count, name of Unit Coordinator. If you have an approved extension this needs to be noted on the title page.

Introduction

The introduction should contain a brief overview of the topic and the specific higher cognitive and sensory functions that will be the focus of this essay. It should include a clear statement of purpose to provide direction for the reader.

Main body

The main body of the essay will outline and discuss any social factors that contribute to delaying any potential adverse effects of reduced higher cognitive and sensory functions over the lifespan, particularly as an individual ages. The determinants that positively affect this also need to be discussed. Discussion will also include any sound and realistic recommendations to increase or find opportunities to support social needs and increase social engagement over the lifespan, thereby encouraging healthy ageing.

Conclusion

The conclusion should summarise the essay findings with key areas outlined as they relate to the overall objectives (above). The conclusion should not include new material.

References

You should use high quality and current references (within the previous 5 years) to support your writing. A minimum of 10 including peer reviewed journal articles and government reports should be used.

The School of Nursing, Midwifery and Social Sciences (SNMSS) uses the CQU APA Referencing Style Edition T3, 2019.

Refer to: https://www.cqu.edu.au/_data/assets/pdf_file/0021/58413/APA_referencing_guide.pdf

Length: 1200 words (+/- 10%).

The word count is considered from the first word of the Introduction to the last word of the Conclusion. It excludes the cover page, contents page (optional) and reference list. It includes in-text citations and direct quotations.

Task Description

Objectives

This assessment item relates to unit learning outcomes 3 & 4.

(3) Critically appraise common strategies used to manage communication difficulties against best practice principles.

(4) Develop communication strategies to enhance and promote respect and personhood.

Develop a 20-minute community forum presentation from the Assessment 2 topic – on ageism and cognitive decline.

Specifically, the impact of ageist attitudes towards people who may be experiencing some form of cognitive decline and how this influences communicating with older persons.

Requirements

Tasks:

1.0 Develop a 20-minute presentation on the topic above to improve the communication skills with older persons for a community forum.

2.0 Use current evidence via references from peer-reviewed journals to support your discussion

3.0 Articulate this at a suitable level for your audience.

Submission

Please write your submission using the following presentation style and format, then upload it onto the DCHA 20003 Moodle website using the Assessment 3 link in the Assessment box.

Note: Every assessment would be submitted as a final draft (no comments or tracked changes).

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
