

DFVP20007 Domestic and Family Violence Project

Term 2 - 2019

Profile information current as at 17/04/2024 01:42 pm

All details in this unit profile for DFVP20007 have been officially approved by CQU University and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit will provide you with opportunities to explore the application of your advanced knowledge and skills in domestic and family violence. It builds on your learning acquired in previous units with a specific focus on research skills development. The research proposal you write as a part of this unit will result in a feasible plan to address an aspect of practice in domestic and family violence. You will explore the implications of the intersection of gender, culture and ethnicity in the research context. You will consider ethical, professional and self-management implications for applied research.

Details

Career Level: Postgraduate

Unit Level: Level 8

Credit Points: 6

Student Contribution Band: 10

Fraction of Full-Time Student Load: 0.125

Pre-requisites or Co-requisites

There are no requisites for this unit.

Important note: Students enrolled in a subsequent unit who failed their pre-requisite unit, should drop the subsequent unit before the census date or within 10 working days of Fail grade notification. Students who do not drop the unit in this timeframe cannot later drop the unit without academic and financial liability. See details in the Assessment Policy and Procedure \(Higher Education Coursework\).

Offerings For Term 2 - 2019

- Online

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes - in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Class and Assessment Overview

Recommended Student Time Commitment

Each 6-credit Postgraduate unit at CQUniversity requires an overall time commitment of an average of 12.5 hours of study per week, making a total of 150 hours for the unit.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

You may wish to view these policies:

- Grades and Results Policy

This list is not an exhaustive list of all University policies. The full list of University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student survey

Feedback

Student comments referred to a supportive, responsive and clear style of coordination. No comment suggested a requirement for change.

Recommendation

Maintain a high level of online 'presence'

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Formulate a research question based on relevant data sources in the domestic and family violence context.
2. Evaluate data collection methods relevant to the domestic and family violence context through the application of an ethical, cultural and gender appropriate framework.
3. Identify research methods to answer a question in the domestic and family violence practice context.
4. Design a research proposal based on sound research principles for application in a domestic and family practice setting.
5. Examine the role of research and researchers in health and human services practice.

Assessment Tasks

1 Annotated bibliography

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

You are required to write an annotated bibliography which provides you with the opportunity to explore the literature around your research topic, define your research question and develop a rationale for your research proposal.

An annotated bibliography is a list of citations to articles, books and documents which provides a brief account of the available research on a particular topic. Each citation comprises basic bibliographical information presented in a standard referencing style (eg APA) followed by a brief descriptive and evaluative paragraph, the 'annotation'. The annotation provides a summary and critique of the source.

For this assignment you are required to create an annotated bibliography of at least 10 journal articles and/or books closely related to your chosen topic for your research proposal.

Your annotated bibliography will include:

Introduction: provide a paragraph which introduces your proposed research topic and the context for the literature you have included in your annotated bibliography. The introduction should demonstrate why you have chosen the journal articles and/or books in your bibliography (approx. 150 words).

Annotations: The references should be presented in alphabetical order by author's last name. Each annotation (150-200 words) should include:

- A brief summary about the research, including what the research was about, how it was conducted, the research context (eg the research setting and country where the research was conducted), and a summary of the key themes or arguments presented in the reference.
- A description of the author(s) that evaluates their credentials (eg are they an expert on the subject matter).
- Your evaluation of the reference should include: how reliable you think the information is; whether there are any flaws in the research or the conclusions; how you think it contributes to knowledge of the research topic; what target audience the research may be useful for; and how it will inform your research proposal.

(McCulloch, R., & Reid, A. (2012). Your business degree (1st ed., pp. 105-106). Frenchs Forest, NSW: Pearson Australia.)

Word limit: 2,000 words (+/-10%), includes reference list

2 Research proposal – Part A

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

A research proposal contains an outline plan for a research project. It describes why the research should be undertaken, what will be done and how it will be done. While requirements for proposals vary widely, for this assessment you will be required to include the following elements as Part A of your research proposal.

Title: a concise indication of the research problem you wish to explore (no more than 150 characters, approx 20 words).

Brief summary: a brief summary stating what your project is about and why it is important (approx. 100 words). [Note: in Assessment 3, your final Research proposal – Part B, you will expand this section to incorporate a brief statement on how you will conduct your research.]

Aims and objectives: provide one overarching aim that captures what you propose to achieve in your research, and a set of clearly articulated objectives that support that aim (approx. 150-200 words).

Background and rationale: an introduction to your research topic area which provides context and an understanding of what the problem or issue is about. This section would also include any definitions of key terms or concepts relevant to your research topic. The significance of the study needs to be stated which outlines the practical and/or theoretical contributions of the research. Here you need to convince the reader that your research into this area is absolutely essential (approx. 350-500 words).

Literature review: a review of the academic literature which will include: what is already known on the topic; what gaps need to be filled; how your research relates to, builds on or differs from previous work in the area; and any theoretical considerations (approx. 1000-1200 words).

Word limit: 2,000 words (+/-10%), includes reference list

3 Research proposal – Part B

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

This assessment finalises the development of your research proposal and covers how your research will be done, ethical and other considerations and a proposed timeframe for the research. You will be required to include the following elements as Part B of your research proposal.

Title: include the title from your previous assessment – Research proposal – Part A

Brief summary: a brief summary stating what your project is about, why it is important and how you will conduct your research (approx. 200-300 words). [Note: you would have completed part of this in your Research proposal – Part A]

Research plan: (approx. 1000-1200 words)

- Articulate and justify your methodological approach (eg qualitative, quantitative, mixed-methods)
- Outline your research methods (eg action research, case study, survey etc) and the tools to be used for data collection
- Describe the study setting, study population, sampling design and recruitment methods
- Provide methods of data analysis and interpretation.

Outcomes and/or deliverables: outline the potential policy, program and/or knowledge contributions of your research (approx. 200-250 words).

Intersectionality: describe the implications of your research on the intersection of gender, culture and ethnicity (approx. 200-250 words).

Ethical considerations: identify ethical issues that need to be considered, particularly in relation to responsibility for the emotional, physical and intellectual wellbeing of potential participants, including safety (approx. 200-250 words).

Timeline: provide a month by month plan of your research from start to finish, including the write-up of your final report or research product (approx. 200-250 words).

Word limit: 2,500 words (+/-10%), includes reference list

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
