General Information

Overview

Digital media has dramatically affected and expanded the ways in which we communicate. This course provides a theoretical and applied understanding of digital communications, including web, social and mobile technologies. You will evaluate a range of digital communication platforms and strategies, and critically examine key social, economic, ethical and regulatory issues. Through a combination of theory and practice, you will develop essential skills for communicators in the digital age, and identify emerging trends and innovations.

Assessment Overview

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Between weeks 6 and 9, there were two assessments being worked on simultaneously. Can the time burden of this be reviewed?

Recommendation

Review the assessable tasks in weeks 6 - 9 to check the time expected commitment.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Explain and evaluate digital communications platforms and strategies that are presently used by individuals and organisations
2. Develop and reinforce essential skills for communicators in the digital age, including the creation and consumption of digital media via web, social and mobile technologies
3. Critically examine key social, economic, ethical and regulatory issues associated with digital communications.
