Assessment design shapes student learning. Take-home exams are more closely related to a professional real-world experience, therefore it has been decided that this unit will replace the invigilated exam with a take home exam.

General Information

Overview

The purpose of this unit will be to introduce students to a range of economic principles relating to real estate and property issues. The unit will be organised in three main sections. The first section will involve an analysis of why economic, social and environmental problems occur, the second reviews some assessment tools that are available, and the third will involve an overview of urban and regional economic issues, with particular focus on the economics of infrastructure planning.

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Class and Assessment Overview

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit Evaluation Survey

Feedback

Students found the drop-in-sessions enjoyable and supportive in their learning

Recommendation

The unit coordinator will continue to provide the drop-in-sessions.

Feedback from Unit Evaluation Survey

Feedback

Simplify the assessment questions with easy narratives

Recommendation

The unit coordinator will update the written assessment with better explanations.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. identify how market mechanisms work to allocate resources, and how market demand and supply systems operate in real property markets;
2. understand the development process, and how development proposals can be evaluated in economic terms;
3. identify the economic arguments for planning controls and how these operate at different levels;
4. develop an understanding of patterns of land use for different activities, including those in urban areas;
5. identify how congestion and environmental problems are issues in urban planning and development, and how they may be addressed;
6. identify the range of factors and government policies that drive housing markets;
7. conceptualise different models of regional development and how these interact with markets for land resources;
8. understand how governments impact on housing markets at both macro policy and micro policy levels;
9. appreciate the potential for market-based instruments and other economic incentive mechanisms to be used in land resource markets.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
