General Information

Overview

This unit introduces you to socio-cultural theory as a basis for understanding language acquisition and use and for evaluating pedagogical approaches to literacy learning. You will examine “multiliteracies” through the twin dimensions of multimodality and multiple perspectives. An understanding of discourses and the relationship between texts and contexts in developing authentic learning and literacy experiences for first and second language learners at all stages of the school curriculum and prior to formal schooling is explored in depth. You will build an understanding of oracy as a language resource for a growing number of purposes in an increasing range of situations and value children as communicators with a repertoire of practices for making and constructing meaning including the use of Arts symbol systems and ICTs. You will analyse and plan for the use of teaching and learning practices that promote effective interaction with learners and enhance language use, oracy and creativity through engagement with literature and aesthetic meaning making processes in the early years and formal learning contexts.

Assessment Tasks

1 Individual Written Response

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Individual Written Response

You will create an individual written response of 1500 words that discusses the claim made by Martello in the following quote:

"Teachers' recognition of the multimodal practices available to children through their homes, communities and popular culture enriches and extends the possibilities for literacy teaching" (Martello, 2007).

Your response must define and explain current perspectives on literacy and link these views to the teaching practices that underpin early language and literacy learning in educational settings.

Your written response should support Martello's quote by addressing the discussion points below:

- Outline your knowledge and understanding of the socio-cultural theories related to literacy and language acquisition
- Explain the impact of learners' primary discourse and diverse backgrounds on literacy practices and dispositions of learning in educational settings
- Identify a range of literacy practices used in real world settings
- Identify examples of strategies and teaching practices used in early language and literacy learning

In order to prepare you to complete your written response and form your position in response to Martello's quote, activities that analyse four main readings will be embedded as essential weekly engagement in Moodle.

Assessment Due Date

Week 6 Wednesday (20 Apr 2022) 11:45 pm AEST

Return Date to Students

Feedback on this assessment will be provided in sufficient time to allow for academic support and advice as necessary to inform students' response to the second assessment task.

2 Practical and Written Assessment

Assessment Type

Practical and Written Assessment

Task Description

Practical and Individual Written Response

This task requires you to select a children's picture book that would be suitable for either a group of 3-5 year old children or children in an early years classroom (Prep, Year 1, or Year 2).

Using your chosen picture book, you will identify textual and multimodal features and consider how these contribute to and support the development of meaning making for diverse learners in your target group. You will draw upon your knowledge of text features to infer multiple possible meanings and connections between text and context. You will reflect on your own skills, experience, and knowledge you use to construct meaning of the text before considering how diverse learners make meaning and how factors of home, care and formal educational settings influence their own understandings.

You are then required to plan developmentally appropriate activities and describe engaging strategies you could use to enhance children's competence as meaning makers. Consideration of the Early Years Learning Framework or the literacy capabilities of the Australian Curriculum should be apparent in the activities and strategies described.

Conclude your response with a written statement that evaluates the effectiveness of your planned activities and strategies in terms of suitability for supporting language and literacy development, imagination, creativity, and knowledge of the world for a wide range of learners in educational settings.

Engagement with the Moodle site and associated tutorials will be essential as further information to support your response and structural considerations will be embedded in weekly activities.

Assessment Due Date

Week 12 Wednesday (1 June 2022) 11:45 pm AEST

Return Date to Students

Feedback on this assessment response will be provided in accordance with university policy prior to certification of grades.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
