General Information

Overview

Teaching Language use in Context builds pre-service teachers' knowledge of the rationale, organisation and content of the Australian Curriculum: English and the interrelatedness of the Language, Literature and Literacy strands. The unit has a particular focus on the productive modes of writing and constructing texts. Students investigate the relationship between the features of texts and the social and cultural contexts in which they are used and apply knowledge of pedagogical frameworks including the teaching-learning model and multiliteracies framework to the development of assessment, teaching resources and learning sequences that scaffold learners' ability to construct texts using multiple semiotic modes.

4. Identify opportunities for students to use ICTs purposefully for constructing effective multimodal texts.
5. Create resources that engage learners and promote understanding of the features of effective literary and/ or non-literary texts.
6. Design logically-structured learning sequences based on knowledge of research-based pedagogical strategies and frameworks for teaching literacy.

Successful completion of the unit English: Teaching Language use in Context provides opportunities for students to demonstrate the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers focus areas of 1.2, 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, 2.6, 3.4, and 5.1. ## Assessment Tasks

1 Practical Assessment

Assessment Type

Practical Assessment

Task Description

Task sheet, rubric and model text for a non-literary (informative or persuasive) multimodal text

Choose a topic suitable for the purpose of creating/ producing an informative or persuasive text in a Year 3-6 classroom. (This might be a topic of interest or one from a curriculum learning area that students are currently studying.)

Using the Australian Curriculum English for one of these year levels (Years 3-6), analyse the content descriptions and achievement standards and select an informative or persuasive multimodal text that learners in that year level will produce as part of a summative task where they present their understanding or point of view on the topic to an audience.

Write a brief description of the summative task in the form of a task sheet for the learners' use. The task sheet should provide instructions for completing the assessment and clearly describe the knowledge of text organisation and language features (linguistic, visual, spatial) that learners must demonstrate in the multimodal text they produce for assessment. (Note that for the purposes of this task, the chosen text must include written rather than spoken language.)

Develop an assessment rubric that teachers could use as a guide to making judgments on the quality of student work at the chosen year level. The rubric should include descriptors for students working above, at or below the achievement standard for the year level.

Construct a sample text to illustrate the text organisation / structure; linguistic and visual features you expect to see demonstrated in the summative task at an A level standard and annotate your sample showing how the chosen features contribute to the text's social purpose and effectiveness for an audience and reflect the assessment criteria described in your rubric.

Australian Professional Standards for Teachers Addressed: 2.1; 2.3; 3.6; 3.4; 5.1

Note that this assessment task can be used as evidence for of the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers in your ePortfolio.

Group Work

Task Description

Teaching/ Learning sequence for constructing a literary text

This task may be completed as either a group or an individual task. Students who choose to work in a group will receive the same mark for this task.

Create a digital resource that could be used at a chosen year level of the Australian Curriculum as a stimulus for introducing a unit of work where students must produce a literary text for the final summative assessment task.

This text can be in a form and mode of your choice e.g. multimodal, digital, narrative, biographical recount, poetry, film, etc.

Clearly identify the content descriptions from the Australian Curriculum English that will be the focus of teaching and learning for the unit/ lesson sequence leading up to students' production of this text.

Design an overview of the content, teaching strategies and learning activities for a sequence of ten (10) lessons that:

- a. makes use of the created resource; and
- b. supports students' knowledge and understanding of, and ability to use the language features of literary texts in aesthetic and engaging ways to convey meaning and heighten engagement, enjoyment or emotional impact for the reader/ viewer.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
