General Information

Overview

English - Teaching Reading builds on students' foundation understandings related to sociocultural theories of literacy to develop knowledge and understanding of skills, strategies and pedagogical approaches that are effective for the teaching of reading in both early years contexts and the middle and upper primary school. An initial focus on "learning to read" incorporates tools and techniques for assessing learners' current knowledge of the reading process to determine a focus for instruction. Students build understanding of a balanced approach to teaching reading based on the roles of an effective reader and plan for the use of the key teaching strategies of shared, modelled, and guided reading to teach skills within meaningful contexts. They apply this knowledge to evaluation of texts suitable for teaching reading and comprehension strategies across the primary years including a focus on building learners' capacity for metacognition and strategic approaches to comprehending a range of print-based, multimodal and digital texts to use "reading to learn".

Assessment Tasks

1 Analysis of assessment in reading

Assessment Type

Practical Assessment

Task Description

For this assessment task, you are required to analyse and interpret assessment data to identify a student's progress in reading and determine his/her learning needs. You must choose a focus student, in Years 1 – 6, capable of reading approximately 100 words of continuous text at an instructional level. Specifically, you will mark two running records, complete a miscue analysis and interpret the information you gather about the reader during a retell or discussion about the focus texts. Detailed information and resources will be provided on the Moodle site for this purpose.

You will summarise the assessment data to identify the focus student's learning needs in reading. This summary and interpretation of data may be written in dot point form but should be no more than 750 words in length.

You will then select a text for the purpose of teaching new reading knowledge and skills. Your text selection must be accompanied by a justification that explains and illustrates why the focus text is a suitable choice for promoting the focus student's reading development. The justification should identify the features of the text that provide a focus for the explicit teaching of reading with reference to your analysis of the assessment data. The justification should be no more than 750 words in length.

The word count is considered from the first word of the introduction to the last word of the conclusion. It excludes the cover page, abstract, contents page, reference page and appendices.

PLEASE NOTE: FURTHER INFORMATION AND SUPPORT FOR COMPLETING THIS TASK WILL BE PROVIDED ON THE MOODLE SITE.

Assessment Due Date

Week 6 Friday (24 Apr 2020) 11:45 pm AEST

Return Date to Students

Feedback on this assessment task will be returned following moderation and in sufficient time to inform students in preparation for Assessment Task 2.

2 Whole class plan for instruction in reading

Assessment Type

Presentation

Task Description

Choose one of the samples of whole school planning and one of the assessment data sets for a class group provided on the course Moodle site as the basis for planning a reading program for one week for the given class.

Your planning must:

- (a) be consistent with the goals for the year level outlined on the school plan;
- (b) demonstrate your ability to interpret the assessment data; and
- (c) cater for the learning needs of all students in the class.

Your planning should include a section of a class timetable for the scheduling of daily reading sessions and show evidence of your understanding of the gradual release of responsibility model for teaching reading. Specifically, your planning must provide detailed information about the learning goals, resources (texts used), classroom organisation, teaching strategies and learning activities for modelled, shared, guided and independent reading sessions for the whole class and small groups at instructional level for the week. Support resources and templates for this purpose will be provided on the Moodle site.

Opportunities for peer sharing and feedback on your planning will be available in week 12 tutorials.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
