General Information

Overview

Service Learning challenges you to reflect on and understand the principles of equity and social justice that underpin contemporary social policy through active participation in a sustained period of service to communities characterised by diversity and disadvantage. The unit uses inquiry-based instruction methods and experiential learning to promote your understanding of the concept of "hidden curriculum" and the social, economic and environmental injustices and personal biases that affect your own teaching practice and implementation of the curriculum in diverse classroom settings. You will engage in action research to investigate, identify and collaborate in partnership with community organisations that have the potential for promoting understanding of the social realities of communities, families and students in primary school settings. You will actively participate in service appropriate to your level of skill development, and reflect on your experiences; your own previous understandings of teaching and learning; and your preconceived notions about students from diverse socioeconomic and cultural backgrounds. Through personal critique and evaluation of the service learning experience, pre-service teachers are equipped with strategies for involving parents and communities in the educative process and are positioned to acknowledge, appreciate and respond to the "funds of knowledge" and diverse characteristics that students bring to educational settings.

Assessment Tasks

1 Service Learning Plan

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Assessment Task 1: Service Learning Plan (approx 2000 - 2500 words)

This assessment task builds deep understanding of the strengths and needs of the local communities in which your professional work might be enacted. The task provides opportunities for you to:

- identify sources of professional knowledge that support your future work;
- engage with external professional bodies and local community groups; and
- support the needs of diverse groups/individuals within your community.

After investigating the needs of your local community, choose a community based organisation/context through which you can complete 20 hours of service learning. Source your own placement with this organisation. Once this is done, you can start documenting a Service Learning Plan that shows evidence of your:

- developing knowledge about service learning and its reciprocity value to community and to you as a participant;
- reflection on ethical practices and professional responsibilities for enacting a service learning plan;
- investigation through documented research into the goals and activities of the community organisation/context and the needs of the local community;
- self-assessment of your current personal and professional skills, attributes and dispositions that might support you to meet your goals for the service learning placement; and
- personal competence and accuracy in communicating a clear action plan for service learning.

Use the question guide provided on the Moodle site (See Moodle site Assessment Block, AT1) to guide you through the development and documentation of your Service Learning Plan. Remember that these questions provide a comprehensive overview of the requirements of a Service Learning Plan, and you should take the time to ensure that you respond to all components. However, please do not see these questions as items that must be responded to in sequence. Rather, they present a guide as to the type of issues that you might consider in drawing together your response.

Your completed Service Learning Plan must also include a signed copy of your Confirmation of Service Learning document. Please refer again to the Assessment Block for further information.

Please note that you may undertake your 20 hrs of service learning placement AFTER you have submitted Assessment Task 1 (Service Learning Plan). The completion of the Service Learning Plan however relies on you having confirmation of the placement with your chosen organisation.

For those undertaking the Bachelor Education course, this assessment task can be used as evidence for demonstrating aspects of the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers; focus areas 6.1, 6.2, 7.1 and 7.4.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
