General Information

Overview

In The Ethical Professional, students critically reflect on the nature of teaching as a complex profession in this capstone unit. They draft their own philosophical framework in relation to teaching and learning and test it by analysing the extent to which it supports them in discharging their professional responsibilities in educational contexts. Students are encouraged to prepare for their final placement in schools by using the National Professional Standards for Teachers; Codes of Ethics and Conduct that apply to the profession; and an understanding of the influence of the broader macro socio-political and policy environment affecting educational contexts to develop a framework of critical questions. These questions are used to guide reflection in, on and for action throughout the placement for Professional Practice 4 and subsequent internship. On conclusion of the full 10-week placement, students select one or more written reflections and apply an ethical decision-making framework to the central incident/s to develop and articulate a personal professional philosophy of teaching illustrating how it shapes their professional practice.

Assessment Tasks

1 Plan for professional learning and reflection

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Part A

Use the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers (Graduate Career Stage) to review the evidence collected to date in your e-portfolio. Write a brief statement that summarises your current capabilities and achievements in relation to the standards and construct a list of professional learning goals to guide your development during your final year Professional Practice placements. Please ensure that you list/dotpoint your professional learning goals. In some ways this is a little like a personal audit that contributes to the construction of your professional learning goals.

Part B

Respond to Codes of Ethics and Conduct for the profession, tutorial discussions and the concepts and readings explored in this course by writing a 500-word critical reflection. This reflection should acknowledge the influence of the broader macro socio-political environment, policy and legislation on teachers' work; explore the ways in which these influences might affect your practice and relationships with students, parents, colleagues and the school community; and, provide the basis for writing a series of questions to guide reflective practice and professional learning during your final Professional Practice and internship placements.

Assessment Due Date

Week 5 Monday (16 Dec 2019) 11:45 pm AEST

Return Date to Students

The assignment will be returned in three weeks.

Weighting

40%

Assessment Criteria

- Analysis of current professional capabilities and achievements in relation to the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers (graduate)
- Development of professional learning goals to guide professional practice
- Critical reflection on the way in which contemporary issues and policy texts (including Codes of Ethics and Codes of Conduct) shape the complex work of teachers

2 Ethical Response and Personal Professional Philosophy

Assessment Type

Task Description

Select at least one incident or experience that prompted critical reflection or collegial discussion during your Professional Practice placement around one of the key questions you developed as part of Assessment Task 1. Please include this question at the beginning of your response. Apply an ethical response framework to examine this issue in further detail and explore or defend the ethical and professional reasoning underpinning your actions or those you observed in this situation. You can use the ethical response cycle (Newman & Pollnitz, 2002) or a framework suggested by the education or accrediting body in your state. Use what you have learnt from this process to write a personal professional philosophy. The features of your professional philosophy or the beliefs that drive what you do and how you will be with children/students and other stakeholders will emerge as you engage in considering the dilemma you encountered. Your philosophy should state your beliefs about your role and responsibilities as an educator and describe how these beliefs shape what you will DO to respond to the complexity of teaching in diverse settings.

Assessment Due Date

Week 12 Monday (10 Feb 2020) 11:45 pm AEST

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
