General Information

Overview

This unit explores the technological competencies required within a 21st century connected society. It looks at the theoretical underpinnings of e-learning and how technology provides a platform for inclusivity, creativity and innovation with a particular focus on Web 2.0 interconnectivity. This unit is both theoretical and practical and provides opportunities to develop, refine and reflect upon skills and literacies associated with e-learning. While providing opportunities to expand and enhance the existing repertoire of technological competencies of pre-service teachers, the unit also encourages them to continue to reflect upon the cultural and critical dimensions of technological literacies.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback; staff reflection

Feedback

Multiple platforms required for completion of assessment tasks were excessive.

Recommendation

Consolidate platforms required for assessment completion to reduce confusion.

Feedback

Excessive workload resulting from too many features in Assessment Task 2.

Recommendation

Refine Assessment Task 2 with clear expectations, ensuring weekly workshops address these.

Feedback from Staff feedback

Only online tutorials are offered, but these were poorly attended, possibly due to the timing of the sessions during school hours.

Recommendation

Consider tutorial timing to optimise attendance.
