General Information

Overview

In secondary education, assessment is crucial, with preservice teachers needing to understand how the brain learns and its implications for assessment. This unit encompasses brain information flow, assessment strategies, valid and reliable judgments, moderation, feedback, reporting and utilising assessment data to inform teaching. It underscores evidence-based research in assessment and neuroscience to enhance your practice and maximise student achievement and well-being.

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).
