General Information

Overview

This unit explores the technological competencies required within a 21st Century digitally connected society. In this unit you will explore the theoretical underpinnings of e-learning and how technology provides a platform for inclusivity, creativity and innovation with a particular focus on Web 2.0 interconnectivity. This unit is both theoretical and practical and provides opportunities to develop, refine and reflect upon skills and literacies associated with e-learning. While providing opportunities to expand and enhance the existing repertoire of technological competencies of pre-service teachers, the unit also encourages you to continue to reflect upon the cultural and critical dimensions of technological literacies.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback

There is a need for more clarity in the expectations of the assessment.

Recommendation

Continue to make assessment videos and overviews accessible for both tasks.

Feedback from Student feedback; Personal reflection

Feedback

Timely response to student questions

Recommendation

Continue communicating the relevant platforms for student communication with the Unit Coordinator to facilitate a timely response to student questions.

Multiple platforms for communication, study and assessment need to be streamlined.

Recommendation

Reduce the number of platforms offered for coordinator/student and student/student communication, unit materials and task completion.
