General Information

Overview

This unit will provide you with information on the role of nutrition for general health as well as for optimising exercise and sports performance. You will learn how to measure dietary intake and how to evaluate a diet based on current guidelines. You will also learn about ethical use of nutritional supplements and ergogenic aids as well as their role in optimising exercise and sports performance. Upon completion of this unit, you will also be able to use current guidelines to provide appropriate dietary recommendations to improve health, change body composition, and optimise exercise and sports performance.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback

Students enjoyed the engaging teaching style which makes learning interesting and fun.

Recommendation

It is recommended the unit coordinator maintains an engaging teaching style that makes learning interesting and fun.

Feedback from Self-reflection and External Accreditation

Feedback

The weighting of online quizzes requires changes due our accrediting body (ESSA) only allowing them to comprise 10% of the unit grade starting in 2026.

Recommendation

It is recommended the unit coordinator reviews assessments and changes assessment weightings to ensure students can obtain ESSA accreditation upon graduation.
