General Information

Overview

In this unit you will examine the nature of Environmental Management Systems (EMS) as developed by the International Organisation for Standards and Standards Australia. Topics include: concepts of EMS, ISO 14000 series (including ISO 14001 and ISO 14004), implementing EMSs, risk assessment, auditing and certification, relationships with Environmental Impact Assessment and the concept of continual improvement. You will review case studies focused on the implementation and functioning of environmental management systems in Australia and in other countries. You will use your learned knowledge and skills to develop your own draft environmental management system for a hypothetical or actual organisation.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Quantitative data from SUTE responses and student Moodle posts

Feedback

Further clarification of unit and assessment requirements are needed.

Recommendation

It is recommended that Lecturer clarify level of detail required for the main written assessment using examples from other organisations' Environmental Management System documents.

Feedback from Quantitative data from SUTE responses and Lecturer reflection

Feedback

Additional opportunities for feedback on written assessments are needed.

Recommendation

Lecturer should consider setting milestones for the main written assessment in order to provide formative feedback on students' draft Environmental Management Systems. Continued provision of Q&A sessions to students is also recommended.

Feedback from Student Moodle posts and Lecturer reflection

Feedback

Unit learning materials need to be updated.

Recommendation

It is recommended that Lecturer update prescribed textbook and record learning book lectures as videos.
