General Information

Overview

This unit covers the role of the financial advisor in estate and succession planning. You will examine the legal and taxation issues related to estate and succession planning. You will apply the skills required for managing the client relationship and construct an estate and succession plan for a client situation. In this unit you will have the opportunity to integrate the broad range of knowledge and skills required of a practicing Financial Planner into a practice focused project based on a practical client situation.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Evaluation

The students expressed concerns regarding the weekly quizzes, citing that the allocated time and the 10% weighting seemed disproportionate. They conveyed that the quizzes demanded more time for completion, particularly due to the perceived necessity of conducting research to address the theory-based questions.

Recommendation

Consider transforming the weekly quizzes into tutorial materials and give more emphasis to the Estate Plan assessment. Consequently, this would streamline the assessment structure from ten items to two, aligning it with the format commonly observed in other financial planning units.

Feedback

Update the learning material to be more understandable and relevant to our state of study - Queensland rather than being based on the NSW laws.

Recommendation

Consider updating the content with learning material that reflects other Australian States as well.
