General Information

Overview

Dawn of Humanity: An Introduction to World History provides an overview of world history to c.1500 CE. In this unit you will examine early human societies from around the world and the rise of empires in this broad period. Areas of study include ancient Egypt, India, China, Greece, Rome, the Islamic world, Japan, and Meso-America. Students will be introduced to the political, economic, social and cultural aspects of these societies and the historical interactions between them. You will gain a preliminary understanding of historical methods and how to interpret and analyse historical evidence. You will develop both discipline-specific and generic skills. You will require a computer and internet access to complete some assessment for this unit. Together with the optional sequel, The Modern World Emerges: An Historical Overview, Dawn of Humanity: An Introduction to World History provides you with a firm foundation for more specialised history studies offered at CQU.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Emails and in class discussions.

Feedback

More guidance on using the library for historical research.

Recommendation

Devote time to explain how to use the CQU library to access scholarly material and conduct independent research.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. demonstrate a broad knowledge of the political, economic, social and cultural history of major world empires and societies and their interactions from pre-history to 1500CE (AD1500).
2. critically apply an unprejudiced understanding of the differing worldviews of these cultures and an acceptance of others' informed opinions.
3. recognise key historical problems of the period and be able to present evidence-backed solutions to these problems.
4. develop essential skills for historians including the ability to locate and analyse historical evidence and the ability to communicate findings in an academic manner.

Assessment Tasks

1 Oral presentation

Assessment Type

Online Quiz(zes)

Task Description

Students are required to deliver an oral presentation of no more than 15 minutes responding to one of the seminar questions listed for discussion in seminars 2-9. The purpose of this task is to generate class discussion that will inform the preparation of the essay assessment task, which is due in week 12.

The presentation will be assessed according to the following criteria:

1. Clarity - how clearly have the ideas that inform the argument articulated in the presentation been expressed?
2. Coherence - the presentation should entail at least 3 key points that relate to a key thesis, which is to be developed iteratively over the course of the presentation. This assessment criteria evaluates the extent to which the thesis and the 3 key points are logically consistent and coherent.
3. Concision - has the presentation articulated a coherent thesis, constituted by at least 3 key points, using precise language and in an engaging manner with brevity.

This assessment accounts for 25% of the overall grade for this unit. Grades will be awarded in the week the presentation is delivered.

2 Source review

Assessment Type

Essay

Task Description

Students are required to produce a source review document that demonstrates critical engagement with a total of 7 scholarly sources chosen from the learning materials across 7 different weekly topics. Each source requires 5 annotations, with the format of the document detailed in the supplementary material for this assessment task on the Moodle site. The purpose of this assessment task is to provide the research foundation for the essay, which is due in week 12.

The total word count for the source review document is 1750 words (+ or - 10%). This total is comprised of approximately 250 words of reflection per scholarly source. A list of several scholarly sources is provided in the learning materials for each of the weekly topics from week 2 through to week 9 and students are required to choose 1 source per week for a total of 7 weeks to include in the source review document.

This assessment task is worth 35% of the total grade.

Further details on this assessment are included in the Moodle site and guidelines for how to approach the task will be discussed at length in seminar 1 as well as in learning resources made available on the Moodle site.

3 Essay

Assessment Type

Essay

Task Description

The questions for the essay are available on the HIST11037 Moodle site. You are required to choose ONE question and write an essay of 2000 words (a variation of 10% is acceptable in the word count).

Students are expected to follow the essay-writing and Turabian referencing guides provided in Moodle, in addition to the format and style of the sample essay. 2 weeks of essay workshops in weeks 10 and 11 are designated for class discussion whereby the research material furnished by the annotated bibliography exercise and the feedback from the oral presentation are synthesised to inform the preparation of the essay.

This essay will be graded on the CREW principle (Content, Research, and Essay Writing).

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
