General Information

Overview

This unit examines Australians at war from 1788 to the present, not from the point of view of the military historian but with respect to the conflict and division that wars have caused on the home front. The unit takes as its points of reference the struggle between Aborigines and settlers on the frontier, colonial wars, conscription, World War I and World War II, Vietnam and the Peace Movement.

Written Assessment

Task Description

Objectives:

This assessment item relates to all unit learning outcomes.

Details:

Students are expected to write a carefully constructed, convincing argument using the most reliable evidence. CQUniversity Library holds a range of authoritative works on these topics and provides access through its databases to the latest research published in peer reviewed scholarly journals. A guide to searching these databases is provided on the unit moodle site. You should consult about six (6) publications. Extensive research is encouraged and generally will result in a higher achievement. Please use internet sources (other than electronic scholarly journals) cautiously. You must also include references and a bibliography in the Turabian style to indicate the sources of your evidence.

Choose one question from the following three and answer it in an essay of about 2000 words.

1. History Wars:

Were the History Wars politically motivated? If so, why?

2. Frontier Wars:

Should the frontier conflict that occurred between Aborigines and colonists be defined as 'war' and should it be commemorated in the Australian War Memorial?

3. Response to Colonial Wars:

Australian colonies participated in some of Britain's wars between 1885 and 1902. Trace the opposition to participation, and explain how and why that changed over time.

Use internet sources (other than electronic scholarly journals) cautiously. You must also include references and a bibliography in the Turabian style to indicate the sources of your evidence.

Choose one question from the following six and answer it in an essay of about 2500 words.

1. Conscription and Compulsory Military Training:

Is it true to say that Australians have traditionally been opposed to conscription for overseas military service?

2. Response to the First and Second World Wars:

Why was Australian society so much more united during the Second World War (1939–45) than during the 'Great War' (1914–18)?

Why did Australian military involvement in the Vietnam War between 1962 and 1973 arouse more opposition than our participation in any previous conflict?

4. Cold War:

Critically assess Rupert Lockwood's Malaya must cost no more Australian lives (1951). To what extent did it represent Australian opinion about the Cold War conflicts of the 1950s?

5. War on Terror:

Have Australia's national values become more militarised since the early 1980s, and if so, how has that influenced the public response to the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan?

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
