HLTH11029 Health Promotion Concepts
Term 2 - 2017

All details in this unit profile for HLTH11029 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview
Students examine and apply fundamental health promotion concepts in this unit. Models of health and health promotion are identified and analysed as to their impact on development of the health promotion discipline. In particular, determinants of health, models of sustainability and change are considered. Students examine the role of partnerships within health promotion and learn to develop partnership skills through a small group work project. Information literacy skills are developed and integrated into the unit activities.

- Distance

Attendance Requirements
All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website
This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Class and Assessment Overview

Assessment Overview
1. Written Assessment
Weighting: 60%
2. Written Assessment
Weighting: 40%

Assessment Grading
This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Moodle evaluations

Feedback

More notice of partnership work at the beginning of term. Make the wiki contributions compulsory More collaborative sessions

Recommendation

I will continue to remind students of the partnership work throughout the term. I will consider introducing an assessment weighting on wiki entries. I will offer more collaborative sessions.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Compare and contrast various models of health and health promotion including determinants of health, models of sustainability and change
2. Analyse the impact of models of health and health promotion on development of health promotion as a discipline
3. Examine the role of partnerships in health promotion contexts
4. Construct an annotated bibliography in partnership with a multidisciplinary team

Assessment Tasks

1 Written Assessment

Assessment Type
Written Assessment

Task Description

Using the annotated bibliography from weeks 1-6 (as found in the wiki for these weeks), write a report (2000 words not including reference list) that analyses the strengths and weaknesses of various models/approaches to health promotion over the past 30 years. You will need to consider under which circumstances each model/approach is best suited and how different models/approaches have influenced health promotion as a discipline.

This assessment is in two parts:

1) A table (20/60) that outlines the various traditional health promotion models/approaches related to the Ottawa Charter (up to 1000 words) which will inform part of your report. This table will need to be submitted on Monday 31st July. A template for this table is available in Moodle.

2) The report (40/60) itself is due on Monday 28th August.

Assessment Due Date

PART A is due Monday 31/7/2017 at 5pm; PART B is due Monday 28/8/17 at 5pm.

Return Date to Students

Two weeks after submission date

Weighting

60%

Assessment Criteria

PART A will be marked according to comprehension and accuracy in completing the table. See Moodle for a detailed marking criteria rubric.

PART B will be marked according to: structure to report writing protocols; evaluation of models/approaches to health promotion; relevance of models/approaches to health promotion as a discipline; evaluation and application of scholarly literature; referencing acknowledgement and accuracy. See Moodle site for a detailed marking criteria rubric.

2 Written Assessment

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Using the annotated bibliography related to partnerships (see wiki in Moodle over weeks 7-10), write a reflective essay (1500 words not including reference list) that analyses how the class has worked as a partnership in regards to contributing to each other's learning through the development of the annotated bibliographies and class discussion. You will need to relate your experiences and reflections to the literature on partnerships. While you are encouraged to explore specific behaviours of individuals, please do not name individuals in your essay. Focus particularly on how the partnerships could have been improved.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?
A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?
A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?
For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre (ALC) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest
If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help
If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work
Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
