General Information

Overview

Health in All Policies (HiAP) is a public health movement and policy approach that contributes to the improvement of population health, equity, wellness and improved policy outcomes across participating sectors. This unit outlines how and why HiAP was established and what benefits it has had on promoting health across populations. Factors that influence the implementation of HiAP are examined, including Health Impact Assessment (HIA) and Health Lens Assessment (HLA). This unit will allow you to bring together assessment, research and evaluation skills learned throughout your course in order to consider where and how health fits in the policy cycle.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE/UC reflection

Feedback

The unit included too many assessments, with quizzes each week throughout the term, in addition to completing workbook activities and doing a live presentation.

Recommendation

Recommend reviewing the number and types of assessments. Any change would require a unit review proposal and course committee approvals.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

The qualitative feedback from students indicated that this unit is heavy with content and many new advanced health policy concepts that students haven't been introduced to them. A lot of independent research was needed to understand concepts. This made it difficult for them to understand the idea.

Recommendation

It is recommended to teach fewer concepts in-depth. This may require a proposal for a unit review.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Students felt the assessment instructions were unclear, and the unit could benefit from a revision.

Recommendation

Rewrite assessment instructions and review the unit design to ensure.

Feedback

Students reported that the learning resources, which were created in 2015, were outdated and did not align with the assigned readings. Additionally, some learning and assessment resources were no longer available.

Recommendation

Update the learning resources during a unit review proposal.
