Term Specific Information

The Bachelor of Arts (Honours) course combines research training and a dissertation to provide graduates with advanced knowledge of the underlying principles and concepts in one or more disciplines as well as practical knowledge of research principles and methods.

In HONS28001, you will receive the discipline-context research training necessary for the successful completion of your Dissertation. You will work with your supervisor to identify a research topic, from which you will define a research question. You will then establish the boundaries of the current discipline conversation with a literature review and propose a discipline-specific method through which you can contribute to knowledge. You will plan your research project within time, administrative and resource constraints.

The literature review that informs the HONS28001 assessed project proposal is the output from HONS28002 'Debates in the Discipline'. If you take HONS28002 in parallel with HONS28001, the two items (Project Proposal and Literature Review or discipline-specific alternate) are due together. If you take HONS28002 after HONS28001, the assessed HONS28001 project proposal is a draft document to be updated during HONS28002 (research aim and question and methods).

Assessment Tasks

1 A Research Project Proposal

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Planning research is a complicated task. At Honours level, a research project brings a contribution to knowledge or exhibit mastery of creative skill. Still, Honours also needs to be constrained to one year of sustained activity (if undertaken full-time). Planning a research project well is one secret to achieving the goal within tight time constraints. Planning entails considering concepts and processes related to the expectations of the academic discipline and research protocols of CQUniversity as well as relevant literature. Importantly the critical steps at this stage are identifying the research questions and planning what research tasks will achieve the results.

Your project proposal becomes the initial chapter of the Dissertation.

The structure, design and format of the project proposal will be informed by discussion with your supervisor to account for discipline specifics.

You will prepare a research proposal that contains:

- A tentative dissertation topic and dissertation title.
- A thorough description of the dissertation topic including a brief literature review/ rationale that demonstrates the currency of the topic and, where applicable, a tentative analysis of relevant primary texts (from HONS28002 'Debates in the Discipline).
- A clearly articulated research question (which includes a 'so what' response: that is, why does it matter that this topic is researched).
- A provisional (discipline-specific) hypothesis.
- A proposed research methodology, including project milestones.
- A response to discipline-specific research administration matters such as ethics applications and risk management.
- Details of resources required to complete the project.
- A provisional evaluation of the contribution the project will make to (discipline-specific) knowledge.

This writing task is a pass/fail grade.

Your project proposal will be some 3,000 words – (around 7,000 words when adding the HONS28002 literature review of 4,000 words).

2 A Research Project Proposal Presentation

Assessment Type

Presentation

Task Description

The communication of academic activity is a crucial step toward converting a research output to changes that make a difference in society. Personal research communication influences the progress of knowledge. While most research communication is written, peer feedback often involves a spoken presentation.

In this assessment task, you will present your completed Honours research project proposal in a format discussed with your supervisor accounting for discipline specifics. Your presentation will engage a knowledgeable audience around the peer review of your project plan.

The communication task is a pass/fail grade.

Consulting the supervisor, the presentation type to be either; a personal talk to a gathering, a video or an academic poster. Here 'peers' include your supervisor, staff members of CQUniversity and interested others. Further information on presentation format and other expectations are given on the Moodle site for this unit.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
