General Information

Overview

In the dynamic business and employment environment, it is critical that Human Resource (HR) practitioners understand how to assist organisations to attract and retain talented people. This unit will provide you with an overview of the functions of human resource planning, recruitment and selection, including the associated legal and ethical issues. You will learn how to plan for an organisation's future staffing needs, how to identify methods to attract, recruit and select employees, and how to use HR information systems and HR analytics to support business strategy.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE comments and emails.

Feedback

Students were appreciative of the teaching quality, knowledge, resources, support and friendly approachable teaching team.

Recommendation

Keep up the commitment and engagement level and standard of the unit coordination, teaching, communication and support. Keep updating the text book, weekly contents, lecturer videos, workshop plans, assessment cases and other Moodle resources every year.

Feedback from SUTE comments phone conversations and emails.

Feedback

Most students could not attend noon workshop in the earlier weeks during work hours. When the evening workshops and drop-in sessions were introduced, the levels of attendance, engagement and satisfaction were higher.

Recommendation

Schedule workshops to accommodate student requirements where possible and break down the 2-hours workshop in 1-hour recorded workshop and 1-hour unrecorded drop-in session for customised support.

Feedback from SUTE comment

A few students commented on the lack of clarity in assessment task details and delay in providing the additional assessment tips. Some students also found the assessment 2 feedback inadequate.

Recommendation

Make all additional assessment tips or support videos available in the assessment tile before week one. Review the assessment task details for further clarity and mention all additional resources in the task description. Ensure that more detailed in-text and customised feedback is provided for assessment 2.
