Term 2 - 2021

Profile information current as at 07/05/2024 09:52 pm

All details in this unit profile for HUMT20015 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

The aim of this unit is to introduce you to the basic elements of writing poetry and/or short dramatic pieces or any approved mix/variation thereof and to provide weekly opportunities to complete practical exercises in those writing forms and to reflect on contemporary creative writing theory via the unit Moodle website. At the end of the unit you will have acquired knowledge of the characteristic elements of the following creative writing techniques – experimental poetic techniques (concrete, visual, and 'code-as-text' poetry) and shorter dramatic forms ('short-act' plays, 'skits,' creative non-fiction and 'flash' fiction) – and will be able to demonstrate the capacity to incorporate these techniques into the production of a 'creative artefact' (3500 - 4000 words) consisting of a creative work and a critical reflection (exegesis).

Term Specific Information

The submission of Assessment Item 1 - The Proposal - according to the stipulated due date and assessment item description is a requirement of this unit. Because The Proposal represents the student's account of what they hope to achieve as regards their creative work (that is, the 'creative artefact'), failure to submit a proposal according to the stipulated due date and assessment item description will normally result in AF (absent fail).

Assessment Tasks

1 Written Assessment 1: Proposal

Assessment Type

Research Proposal

Task Description

Task Description

DUE: Week 3 (28/07/2021 11:45 PM)

Students are required to develop a 500 - 700 word 'Proposal'. The 'Proposal' will include an outline describing the basic themes, plot/story line or concept of the writing project to be undertaken over the Term.

The type of detail included in the proposal depends on the type of artefact intended. For instance, perhaps you would like to write poems for a book of poetry, or the first few scenes of a dramatic script for a theatre production, etc. In each case, given your work for this unit will be geared toward writing your poems/script, your proposal will need to position the scenes/poems as sitting within the conceptual idea a larger body of work - a book of poems, or a script etc - while focusing the most attention on what you actually plan to achieve within this unit proper.

The aim of the Proposal is twofold:

- a) to show how the student has investigated and thought carefully about a chosen topic; and
- b) to ensure the writing piece will be developed and written in a suitable, achievable, and appropriate way and with an emphasis on genre.

Therefore, your Proposal must identify a specific genre and show evidence that: you have researched this genre and the techniques you intend to apply, understand its literary characteristics, and provide some description/rationale as to how you aim to apply the technique in your final creative piece.

The Proposal is therefore in-part a negotiation of the creative writing topic with your supervisor (Dr Nicole Anae).

The Proposal is Pass/Fail and it is a condition of the unit that the item must be submitted, approved and passed.

Note: The specified word limit for this item (500 - 700 words) does not include the reference list or week-by-week timeline. Also, there is a 10%+/allowable variance over or under the stipulated word count.

Return Date to Students

Week 5 Wednesday (11 Aug 2021)

Weighting

Assessment Criteria

The Proposal/pitch will be evaluated according to the extent to which:

1. the proposal evidences that it will carry-out a clearly articulated set of outcomes in reference to the genre and form of the writing project (e.g., writing a series of ten poems, writing a dramatic script, writing a children's play, etc.)
2. the proposal identifies the genre and style in which the content of the creative artefact will be written
3. the proposal of the creative artefact represents an original piece of writing according to the chosen genre and is of an achievable standard shown via a week-by-week timeline indicating what is to be undertaken and when in the writing process (including milestones, e.g., benchmarks achieved leading up to Assessment 2 - Critical Reflection Journal, benchmarks achieved leading up to Assessment 3 - Final Creative Artefact)
4. the proposal defines key literary concepts using credible/scholarly sources
5. the proposal includes; a) at least 5 scholarly/credible references identified as important in ensuring that your creative artefact is informed by the literary and stylistic conventions of your chosen genre, the specified style, and experimental writing technique/s in which the content will be written, and b), is presented in a flawless literary presentation, formatting and referencing (Harvard Author-Date system)

Note: The specified word limit for this item (500 - 700 words) does not include the reference list or week-by-week timeline. Also, there is a 10%+/allowable variance over or under the stipulated word count.

2 Written Assessment 2: Critical Reflection Journal

Assessment Type

Critical Review

Task Description

Task Description

Students are required to reflect weekly on their writing progress with specific reference to their experiences throughout the creative writing process.

The Critical Reflection journal must discuss in a critical way how the final written piece (the creative artefact) is being/has been shaped by the various factors effecting the process of literary creation. Entries can be written in the experimental writing technique under weekly discussion.

Weighting: This item is worth 50% of your final mark for the unit.

Students can complete their Experimental Writing journal as a blog if desired (using the weekly topic forums [Discussion Boards] on the unit moodle site) or submit as a word document. If completing as a blog (either via the weekly moodle Discussion Board platforms or using an external blog platform), simply cut and paste your reflections and upload as a completed Critical Reflection Journal - Blog Submissions (word file or PDF) document.

Note: The activities listed for each of the weekly topics are only prompts for your learning. You may elect to use your response as your critical reflection journal entry only if it is relevant to your creative artefact (that is, if the activities assist you in the crafting of your piece). You may find some weekly activities have no relevance to your final creative artefact, but simply complement your learning for that week in a specific focus area. So, some activities will be more relevant to your weekly Critical Reflection Journal than others - and some activities not relevant at all.

Again, the aim of the critical reflection journal is first and foremost exegetical (each entry offering a critical explanation or interpretation for the draft writing for that week specific to realising the proposed creative artefact), so again, the weekly journal activities will have limited relevance to your creative artefact (and by extension your Critical Reflection Journal) depending on your choice of poetry or a short dramatic piece. So again, you are entirely free to pick and choose 'to do or not to do', the weekly activities, so to speak.

So just to repeat, the weekly activities are primarily to direct your learning for that week, and may or may not have significance as a response relevant to your Critical Reflection Journal.

Students weekly reflections must account for a 10 week period e.g., Week 1 until Week 10 (10 weeks in total), or, Week 2 until Week 11 (10 weeks in total).

Each weekly reflection response is worth 5 marks.

Word limit: Each response should be between 200-275 words in total (references are not included in the word count).

Assessment Criteria

This assessment will be evaluated on the extent to which it demonstrates:

1. Critical reflection regarding the ways in which the work in progress aligns with the creative intentions set out in the proposal;
2. Critical reflection regarding the ways in which the work in progress is a demonstration of the critical engagement with the writing techniques identified in the proposal;
3. A deliberate and concerted enterprise in seriously considering the factors which have shaped and determined the process of literary creation including; A justification of literary techniques used, a justification of chosen genre and form, a justification of how each step of the writing process as gone beyond simply sitting and writing, but offers insight into how you have critically examined your creative product in the light of contemporary theory and

- practice (insights each supported by critical/scholarly readings and material);
4. Flawless presentation and clarity of expression in each critical reflection - including spelling and grammatical correctness and appropriate acknowledgment of all sources and in-text citation using the Harvard (author-date) referencing style.

Note: The specified word limit for this item (2000 - 2500 words) does not include the reference list. Also, there is a 10%+/- allowable variance over or under the stipulated word count.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
