

INDG19016 Contemporary Indigenous Issues

Term 1 - 2017

Profile information current as at 04/05/2024 01:43 pm

All details in this unit profile for INDG19016 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit students should be able to develop insights into the central issues facing Indigenous people in Australia today: political voice and representation; law and justice; health and housing; education; employment; the Stolen Generations; land rights; and cultural expression. Students should be able to place these issues within the context of history, social structure and race relations. Students examine recent controversies surrounding the history of race relations in Australia, and whether or not this history is relevant when examining the contemporary situation of Indigenous people. Students should be able to evaluate political debates and policies concerning Indigenous people and their relationship with non-Indigenous people.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Assessment Tasks

1 Written Academic Essay Assessment 1

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

The purpose of this written assignment is to demonstrate your learning and understanding of the controversies that Aboriginal and/ or Torres Strait Islander people have endured since invasion and colonisation of this continent. The use of appropriate terminology is considered highly important.

Select a controversy below and critically discuss:

1. Eddie Mabo's high court challenge of Terra Nullius to gain recognition of Torres Strait Islander land rights within the framework of Australia's law was another struggle for justice gained by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples against the continuing agenda about the invasion and settlement of Australia.
2. Are past injustices still relevant to the situation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples today or is using these past injustices simply part of a 'guilt industry' promoted by 'sectional interests' and their allied 'elites' in the academy?
3. Is Andrew Bolt a champion of 'free speech' by questioning the Aboriginal identity of light skinned, so-called Aborigines?

The structure for your assignment should include Cover and Criteria sheet, Title, Introduction and Conclusion. Sub headings are optional along with inclusion of additional materials (photos, maps, images etc) correctly cited in the paper (using the Harvard system) will add to the mark and the total number of references should be at least six, but more is always better. Word length: 1500 words.

Written Assessment

Task Description

The purpose of this written assignment report is to demonstrate your learning and understanding of contemporary Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and the impacts on their 'lived experience'.

Examine and critically analyse one of the following assertions made about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and their engagement with Australia's mainstream majority:

1. The changes in the relationship between Aboriginal and Torres Strait people and the British legal system since the introduction of the Aboriginal legal services including the development of 2-way customary and community law have not made any difference to First Nations peoples representation in the correctional system.

2. Initiatives of the Federal Government ensure that Aboriginal people get 'special privileges' in the area of Health and social services.

The structure for your assignment should include Cover and Criteria sheet, Title, Introduction and Conclusion. Sub headings are optional along with inclusion of additional materials (photos, maps, images etc) correctly cited in the paper (using the Harvard system) will add to the mark and the total number of references should be at least 10, but more is always better. Word length: 3000 words.

Written Assessment

Task Description

The purpose of this written assignment is to demonstrate your learning and understanding of Aboriginal and/ or Torres Strait Islander people's issues relating to Treaty, Reconciliation, 'lived experience' in Australia's society today.

Choose 1 of the following Essay Topics below and critically discuss:

1. Racial discrimination and racial hatred (vilification) legislation have not deterred racism in Australia.
2. It is easier for the Torres Strait Islanders to secede from the Commonwealth of Australia than it is for Aboriginal people to achieve self-government.
3. Prime Minister Kevin Rudd's apology to the Stolen Generation did not go far enough. The Queen and the British Parliament should apologise for what occurred from 1770 - 1901 and apply pressure for the Australian government to develop a Treaty with Australia's First Nations people similar to that as the reigning monarch of Canada (Victoria, Edward VII or George V) from 1871 to 1921 established.

The structure for your assignment should include Cover and Criteria sheet, Title, Introduction and Conclusion. Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
