

LAWS11057 Introduction to Law

Term 2 - 2023

Profile information current as at 25/04/2024 06:20 am

All details in this unit profile for LAWS11057 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit introduces you to the study of law by examining the history out of which our law developed and examining how the law responds to the socio-legal conditions of our time. It provides you with an awareness of the institutions which are created by the law and how those institutions shape the development of the law. You will be introduced to the notion of legal reasoning: distinguishing the 'dicta' and 'obiter' of cases, precedent theory, case analysis, following and distinguishing precedent; as well as distinguishing between primary and delegated legislation. This unit introduces you to legal discourse and the conventions of the discipline which will provide a foundation for study in more advanced units.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Reflection of the teaching team, student feedback

Feedback

Week 4, which looks at legislation and statutory interpretation, and week 5, which looks at the court hierarchy and the doctrine of precedent, are very dense.

Recommendation

Move some of the content in week 1 to an 'orientation' tile or provide the content via a video/guide as part of the unit overview. This will allow for foundational information from weeks 4 and 5 (the structure of the legal system, what law is, the court hierarchy, and the legislative process) to be explored at a foundational level in week 1, which will reduce the amount of content in weeks 4 and 5.

Feedback from Student feedback

Feedback

Students should have significantly more time to complete the problem solving assessment, which is conducted as a take home paper.

Recommendation

A take home paper must be retained for compliance with accreditation requirements. The nature of this assessment, a problem solving exercise, should be retained as it assesses students' problem solving skills and knowledge of statutory interpretation and precedent using primary sources. However, students should be given a minimum of 7 days to review the legislative provisions and cases that will be the subject of the take home paper assessment so that they do not need to complete any reading in the time permitted for the take home paper.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Demonstrate understanding of the Australian legal system, rules of law, precedent, and how law is made and developed in Australia.
2. Apply the principles of statutory interpretation, case analysis, and professional ethical responsibility.
3. Conduct legal research and communicate effectively orally and in writing, using appropriate referencing.
4. Develop basic skills and techniques in legal problem solving, critical analysis, legal reasoning, and reflection.

Assessment Tasks

1 Online Quizzes

Assessment Type

Online Quiz(zes)

Task Description

In this unit, you will be reading articles and materials that will broaden your understanding of the topics of law and justice. At the end of each module (modules 1-10), a quiz will test your comprehension of these materials and your understanding of unit materials and readings, and your ability to apply concepts from these materials. The weekly quizzes should be attempted after completing each module's lesson. They are located within the relevant module tile.

Quizzes comprise of 4 questions drawn randomly from a bank of questions, with each question worth 0.5% of your mark for the unit and thus each quiz is worth a total of 2% for each module. The questions test your understanding and application of unit materials, concepts and readings.

All ten quizzes must be completed by 5.00pm AEST on Friday of week 11. As students have 11 weeks to complete this task, no extensions beyond this due date are permitted.

2 Workbook

Assessment Type

Learning logs / diaries / Journal / log books

Task Description

This unit emphasises practical and applied learning, to draw connections between the readings/preparatory materials and the real world context in which they are used.

Each workshop is connected to a weekly challenge that tests your skills and understanding. To evidence what you have learned, you are required to write reports responding to each weekly challenge. Each will be approximately half a page in length and can include elements such as tables or diagrams.

In week 12, you must submit a workbook containing your weekly challenge answers for weeks 1-10.

Each weekly workshop challenge is worth 2% of your marks for this unit.

- Conduct legal research and communicate effectively orally and in writing, using appropriate referencing.
- Develop basic skills and techniques in legal problem solving, critical analysis, legal reasoning, and reflection.

3 Take Home Paper

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

In this unit, you will be learning practical skills for working in and around the legal and justice systems. The first half of the term will teach you how to find, use and evaluate legal authorities and sources of information. To test what you have learned, you will complete a legal problem solving exercise using real cases and legislation to provide advice to a client.

This assessment will be carried out as a 'take home paper', which is the equivalent of an exam. The take home paper will be held on Friday 22 September 2023 during week 10 of term from 1pm to 5pm AEST.

Note the following conditions apply to take home papers:

1. take home papers are for four (4) hours duration only;
2. submissions received after the deadline has passed will not be accepted and will be graded as zero;

3. extensions are not available for take home papers (although Accessibility adjustments still apply); and
4. exam conditions apply to take home papers.

In the take home paper you will be assessed on your ability to identify the legal issues in a factual scenario and locate and interpret the law. You must apply the law to the facts to provide advice to a client. You will also be assessed on your ability to explain your reasoning, the steps you took in solving the problem and the decisions that you made.

Invigilated take-home examinations are required for students enrolled in the CB68 Bachelor of Laws / Bachelor of Accounting double degree or CL53 Bachelor of Laws / Bachelor of Business (Accounting major) as part of the accounting accreditation. These units include LAWS11057 Introduction to Law (CB68, CL53 (accounting major) and CQ01 students only). The invigilation process is governed by the Invigilated Take-home Examination Guidelines issued by the College of Law, Criminology and Justice. Invigilation is not required for students not enrolled in CB68 or CL53.

Further instructions regarding the process for invigilation for Accounting students will be provided on Moodle in due course.

Assessment Due Date

Week 10 Friday (22 Sept 2023) 5:00 pm AEST

Students will have four hours to complete the paper. It will be held in week 10 of term on a date and time to be set.

Return Date to Students

Estimated return is 2 weeks from due date. Results may be withheld until certification of grades.

Weighting

60%

Assessment Criteria

- Identification of legal issues;
- Identification and analysis of relevant law;
- Ability to apply the law to a factual scenario;
- Ability to provide clear, supportable conclusions;
- Effective communication and referencing; and
- Ability to reflect on problem-solving process.

Submission Instructions

Students must submit their paper as a Word document before the due date and time. Late submissions will not be accepted and will be marked as zero. Extensions are not permitted for this assessment.

Learning Outcomes Assessed

- Apply the principles of statutory interpretation, case analysis, and professional ethical responsibility.
- Conduct legal research and communicate effectively orally and in writing, using appropriate referencing.
- Develop basic skills and techniques in legal problem solving, critical analysis, legal reasoning, and reflection.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
