General Information

Overview

This unit introduces you to the Australian legal system, its institutions, processes and sources of law. It explores foundational principles and concepts, such as the Westminster system of governance, rule of law, doctrine of precedent and principles of statutory interpretation to provide you with insight into how the Australian legal system functions. The unit explores thinking, researching and communicating like a lawyer through the development of legal, ethical and technological literacy and a range of legal skills, which provides a foundation for your future law studies.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback

Target unit updating and revision towards changes to legal research platforms

Recommendation

A number of legal research platforms have revised their websites in 2025; unit content should guide students through these changes.

Feedback from Student feedback, self-reflection

Continue ALC integration

Recommendation

ALC integration was well-received by students and effective in supporting good outcomes; it should be retained and developed.

Feedback from Self-reflection

Combine good practice from across units and terms

Recommendation

As this unit is team taught and led by different Unit Coordinators each term, ensure experiences and good practice are shared between teaching staff and across terms. Continue also the process of harmonisation between First Year units.
