Term 2 - 2017

Profile information current as at 25/04/2024 05:28 am

All details in this unit profile for LAWS11065 have been officially approved by CQU University and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit examines the organization, source and limits of Commonwealth and State powers, and the relations between the three branches of government at Commonwealth and State levels. It focuses on the Commonwealth of Australia Constitution as the supreme law in Australia under which the Commonwealth of Australia operates and was created, and the power of the States as former colonies was preserved. The unit also examines the fundamental principles of Constitutional Law such as constitutionalism, rule of law, representative democracy, responsible government, parliamentary supremacy, separation of powers, federalism and individual rights and freedoms, and how they guide and control the operation and powers of the executive, legislature, and judiciary. At the end of the unit, students will be able to explain, discuss, and demonstrate the impact of Constitutional Law on, and its practical importance to society.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Course evaluation

Feedback

Manjo went to great lengths to explain concepts. The best aspects were the tutorials in which he went through each problem question and constructed the answer through class participation. Very informative and thorough. Plenty of examples were given of assessment structure, which has been fantastic, as it will help with overall framework for other courses.

Recommendation

Although some students express some discomfort with the Socratic method and prefer a more directive approach where the lecturer just provides the answers to Discussion Question, I can sense the pedagogical value of engaging students in a question-and-answer exercise at tutorials.

Feedback from Course evaluation

Feedback

All the course materials were available from day one, the short videos in the first week were very informative and easy understandable, model answers were provided for weekly problem questions.

Recommendation

The accessibility of learning resources will continue to be a strength of our LLB program.

Feedback from Course evaluation

Feedback

Delay in returning an assessment

Recommendation

Review and improve the system of employing casual markers to ensure that assessments are returned on time.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Explain and discuss key constitutional law principles such as Australian federalism, the doctrine of separation of powers, constitutionalism, rule of law, parliamentary sovereignty, and responsible and representative government.
2. Research case law and demonstrate critical thinking in applying case law, and key provisions and legal principles of the Australian Commonwealth Constitution, State constitutions, and statutes, to constitutional law issues and problems.
3. Critically examine, evaluate, and explain the theoretical and actual operation and relationship of the Australian legislature, executive, and judiciary, at both federal and state levels.
4. Explain, discuss, and demonstrate the impact of Constitutional Law on, and its practical importance to society.

Assessment Tasks

1 Quizzes

Assessment Type

Group Discussion

Task Description

For this assessment task, there will be a weekly online quiz corresponding to the respective topics of weeks 1 to 10. Each quiz involves one multiple-choice question (problem-type or conceptual). Hence, there will be ten weekly online quizzes throughout the term up to the week 10 topic.

Each weekly online quiz, which comprises 1% of the final grade, shall be opened and made visible to students at the start of each week (Monday) at 11 a.m. The first quiz corresponding to the week 1 topic shall be opened and made visible on the Monday of week 2 (17 July). The second quiz corresponding to the week 2 topic shall then be opened and made visible on the Monday of week 3 (24 July), et seq.

Students have seven calendar days (or until Sunday at 10 pm, AEST) to answer each weekly online quiz. After the lapse of the seven-day period, students shall lose the opportunity to answer the quiz for that particular week.

The questions and answers shall be the bases of group discussions in Moodle after the end of the period during which students are meant to do the quiz.

There will be no online quiz during the mid-term break.

Assessment Due Date

Week 11 Friday (29 Sept 2017) 8:00 pm AEST

Students have seven calendar days (or until Sunday at 10 pm, AEST) to answer each weekly online quiz. After the lapse of the seven-day period, students shall lose the opportunity to answer the quiz for that particular week.

2 Presentation and Written Assessment

Assessment Type

Presentation and Written Assessment

Task Description

Assessment Two requires the online submission of answers, both individually and in groups, to four problem-type questions. Two of the questions must be answered individually and the other two must be answered in groups of three to four students. The Course Coordinator will determine and indicate which questions must be answered individually or in groups. Further guidelines on the group mechanics (selection, number of members, problems, etc.) shall be posted in Moodle at the start of the term.

Each answer must consist of 500-550 words (excluding footnotes). Hence, the total word count for the two individual answers is 1,000-1,100 words (excluding footnotes). The same is true for the group answers.

Appropriate legal principles and case law must be cited. No bibliography is required. The word count must be indicated at the end of the submitted document, which must be in MS Word (and not in PDF). There is no allowance for a word count below or above the designated word count range of 500-550 words for each answer.

Each student must submit his or her individual answers to Moodle. As to the group answers, only one group-designated student must make an online submission in behalf of the group. If more than one online submission is made by a group, the succeeding or later one will not be marked.

The marks for the individual answers comprise 20% of the final grade, and the marks for the group answers comprise 20% of the final grade. Group members receive the same mark for the group answers.

There is a group component to the assessment because group work has been shown to lead to better student engagement, learning and completion. The ability to work in groups is also a CQUniversity graduate student attribute and is crucial in the workplace.

Aim to be concise and direct to the point. Follow the IRAC/CIRAC format that is the common approach to answering Law problem-type questions. In your submission, please provide only your answers and do not include or repeat the questions.

The assessment covers the topics up to and including week 5 on "Judicial Powers A: Separation of Judicial and Non-Judicial Powers".

There will be separate submission links for the individual and group answers.

The MS Word file containing the individual answers must be saved and submitted in the following format: LastName_FirstName_Answers.docx.

Please state the complete names and student numbers of all the group members in the group answers. The MS Word file containing the group answers must also be saved and submitted in the following format: LastName (Student 1)_LastName (Student 2)_LastName (Student3)_LastName (Student 4)_Group_Answers.docx. For example: Smith_Ascot_Wright_Goldman_Answers.docx.

3 Final Written Take-Home Assessment (Individual)

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

This final written (individual take-home) assessment involves the online submission of answers to problem-type questions. Students are given a non-extendible period of 48 hours within which to submit their answers to the questions, which will be made available on 9 October (Monday) at 9:00 p.m. (AEST). The answers must be saved in MS Word (not as a PDF) and submitted on 11 October (Wednesday) at 9:00 p.m. (AEST).

The MS Word file must be saved in the following format: LastName_FirstName_Final_Assessment.docx.

Assessment Due Date

Review/Exam Week Wednesday (11 Oct 2017) 9:00 pm AEST

No late submission is permitted. In the absence of an approved extension at the discretion of the Deputy Dean (Learning and Teaching), there will be no opportunity to complete the task after this date, nor will there be an opportunity to apply any late penalty.

Return Date to Students

As per university policy, the marked assessment will be returned to students after the Certification of Grades.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
