Term 2 - 2020

Profile information current as at 26/04/2024 02:58 pm

All details in this unit profile for LAWS11065 have been officially approved by CQU University and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

LAWS11065 Constitutional law examines the organization, source and limits of Commonwealth and State powers, and the relations between the three branches of government at Commonwealth and State levels. In this unit you will examine State and Commonwealth constitutions and constitutional systems; the constitution and operation of the legislature, executive and judiciary; the relationship between the different institutions of government and the separation of powers; and the relationship between the different levels of government. This unit meets the LPAB requirements for federal and state constitutional law.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from unit evaluations/personal observation

Blackshield and Williams is an excellent text however it is lengthy making it difficult for some students to complete the weekly reading.

Recommendation

Review other textbooks to assess if there are any other books of similar quality but shorter length.

Feedback from Student emails, unit evaluation

Feedback

Students enjoyed the contextual/historical approach

Recommendation

Continue to teach material in context

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Explain and discuss key constitutional law principles such as Australian federalism, the constitution and operation of the legislature, executive and judiciary, the relationship between the different institutions of government and the doctrine of separation of powers, constitutionalism, rule of law, parliamentary sovereignty, the relationship between the different levels of government, and responsible and representative government
2. Research case law and demonstrate critical thinking in applying case law, and key provisions and legal principles of the Australian Commonwealth Constitution, State constitutions, and statutes, to constitutional law issues and problems
3. Critically examine, evaluate, and explain the theoretical and actual operation and relationship of the Australian legislature, executive, and judiciary, at both federal and state levels.

Assessment Tasks

1 Resource Summary

Assessment Type

Group Work

Task Description

To complete the two written assessments in this unit, you will need to find another student (or two) to work with. A Moodle forum will be set up to facilitate this process. Part of this assessment allows you to display your ability to work with another student in a team, and students should take the initiative to organise the pairings themselves. You will be placed into a pair by week 4 if you have not found someone to work with, so ensure that you inform your coordinator if you have found a partner.

Two topics will be posted to the Moodle site. You and your chosen partner will select one topic each. To assist each other, you will prepare a summary of a resource related to your team member's chosen topic. In return, they will produce a summary of a resource on your chosen topic. The summaries should aim to be 500 words in length. There will be many resources on the topic in the textbook. You may also find resources through your own research, with the agreement of your partner.

Submit the summary you prepared for the other student to Moodle. Ensure that your name and that of your partner appears on the summary. It should be clear to me who has written the summary, and who is the partner.

The idea in this assessment is to work as a team, where you each act as a research assistant for your partner in locating and assessing the suitability of a resource for them. This will assist your partner in the preparation of the larger research project, and lead to discussions between partners (or wider groups) around the topics.

You will receive an individual grade for your work.

2 Research Paper

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

This is a written assessment which will allow you to research your choice of two topics posted to Moodle. The Assessment should refer to both cases and commentary on Constitutional law, and show a critical understanding of the law, including connections to social, political and/or theoretical perspectives. You may draw on current political or historical events in the research paper.

Expected length is 2000 words.

This exercise ties in with the group exercise (see above). Students are to select the topic which was not chosen for assessment one.

Topics will be released on the Moodle site during semester.

Assessment Due Date

Week 9 Monday (14 Sept 2020) 10:00 pm AEST

Online, via Moodle

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
