

LAWS12068 Innovation and Intellectual Property Law Term 1 - 2023

Profile information current as at 18/04/2024 01:39 am

All details in this unit profile for LAWS12068 have been officially approved by CQU University and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit introduces you to the innovation ecosystem and the place of intellectual property (IP) within that ecosystem. In the first half of the unit, you will learn about Australia's statutory IP rights, including copyright, patents, designs, and trade marks, and the associated international IP conventions and treaties. You will also consider other rights regarding confidentiality, passing off and unfair competition, and data ownership/privacy. IP is an important business asset, and in the second half of the unit, you will investigate the protection and enforcement of IP; assignment, licensing, and the business risks involved in anti-competitive licensing. You will also be introduced to some fundamental considerations in the negotiation of IP licences, including relational contracting and design thinking.

Co-requisite LAWS11057 and LAWS11059 for Law students. Pre-Req of LAWS11030 and co-requisite of LAWS12076 for Business students.

Important note: Students enrolled in a subsequent unit who failed their pre-requisite unit, should drop the subsequent unit before the census date or within 10 working days of Fail grade notification. Students who do not drop the unit in this timeframe cannot later drop the unit without academic and financial liability. See details in the Assessment Policy and Procedure \(Higher Education Coursework\).

Offerings For Term 1 - 2023

- Online

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes - in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Class and Assessment Overview

Recommended Student Time Commitment

Each 6-credit Undergraduate unit at CQUniversity requires an overall time commitment of an average of 12.5 hours of study per week, making a total of 150 hours for the unit.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

You may wish to view these policies:

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE Teacher Evaluation Report

Feedback

The unit is well prepared and well taught. The unit is delivered by the best in the law of Innovation and Intellectual Property. The lecturer interacts with the students during tutorial times and always provides feedback on emails and moodle. I am glad I chose this unit as one of my electives and will be one of the laws I would like to practice in the future.

Recommendation

Excellent engagement with student should be maintained.

Feedback from SUTE Teacher Report

Feedback

I found the Unit Textbook to be too basal for completion of assessments and also in gaining a more intrinsic understanding of the area of law necessary to achieve the graduate learning outcomes, let alone be vocationally competent. I recommend these textbooks instead- Intellectual Property Law 2nd ed by Craig Collins and Heather Forrest, Intellectual and Industrial Property Law 3rd ed by William van Caenegem, and Australian Intellectual Property 3rd ed by Katy Bowrey et al. The lecturer ('Supo') was extremely knowledgeable and assistive, whilst also being a very empathetic person towards the complexities of students needs.

Recommendation

I recommend that Mark Davison et.al, Australian Intellectual Property Law (4th ed.) published by Cambridge University Press be added as a recommended textbook for topics covered in Week 1 to week 6 of the unit.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Identify and apply legal principles relating to confidential information, copyright, patents, designs, trade marks, plant breeder's rights, unfair competition and the protection of business reputation
2. Demonstrate an understanding of the legal and practical steps needed to ensure that intellectual property rights remain valid and enforceable
3. Demonstrate a capacity to identify, apply and assess ownership rights and marketing protection under intellectual property law as applicable to information, ideas, creativity and innovation
4. Critically analyse intellectual property protection and leveraging, including assignment and licensing strategies, for potential business and competition law risks.

3 Assessment Task 3

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Final research paper 2300 words.

In this unit, you will encounter some complex subject matter which will hopefully inspire your research curiosity. For this final piece of assessment, you are encouraged to pursue your own individual research interests within the bounds of the unit material. You may develop your own, unique research question to pursue (in consultation with the Unit Coordinator, who will be able to provide you with assistance in scoping your research question appropriately for the task).

If you decide to develop your own research question to write on, you must have emailed your paper proposal to Unit Coordinator for approval by the end of week 5. Your paper proposal must demonstrate that you have considered the following issues in order to submit the paper on time and in a well-researched manner:

1. What is the research question or problem that you wish to write about? Clearly define the research problem and how you want to address it;
2. Why do you want to research this issue? You should show that you have at least conducted a preliminary review of the literature to demonstrate it is a research question worthy of study.
3. How are you going to do it? You should show that you have a defined schedule for your literature review that is achievable, to allow time for the write-up of your paper and submission by the due date.

If you do not wish to develop your own research question to write on, you will submit a final individual paper on only ONE of the following topics:

- 1. Proposition: "A failure to recognise autonomous artificial intelligence (AI) machines as an 'inventor' under patent law means that inventions devised by them are not patentable. This causes a stumbling block for commercialisation and is a failure to incentivise the emergent AI sector, which undermines one of the main rationales for the intellectual property system". Discuss.

(Here, you will need to research and explain the Artificial Inventor Project, take a stand (for or against) the proposition, and present a compelling argument justifying your position drawing on your knowledge gained in this unit. You will comment on legislative obstacles to patentability for AI-generated inventions, examine the extent to which AI-related commercialisation activities depend on patents, and the incentivisation rationale for the IP system. You will need to support your argument with appropriate research, citing legislation, case law, articles, reports, books, etc).

OR

- 2. Proposition: "The development of AI technology relies on availability of data to train the AI system. The Australian copyright system prevents free use of copyright materials to train AI systems, so policymakers should amend the legislation to provide for a "text and data mining" (TDM) exception to infringement, to free up access to copyright materials, incentivise AI innovations and stimulate the AI sector. It was incorrect for the United Kingdom (UK) government to cease its plans for an expanded TDM exception in its copyright law." Discuss.

(Here you will need to examine the UK's current TDM exception, critically examine innovation policy arguments for the UK's planned introduction of an expanded TDM exception to copyright, examine the most recent UK House of Lords report failing to support such an exception, and the UK Intellectual Property Office's immediate "pause" on the plan to introduce it (as at 4 February 2023). You will then need to draw on your knowledge gained in this unit to compellingly argue (either) the UK's approach was correct as such an exception unfairly prejudices the creative industries' ability to commercialise their products (or) unlike the UK scenario, the TDM exception would be appropriate for Australia to incentivise the AI industry, which should be prioritised by policymakers. You will need to support your argument with appropriate research, citing legislation, case law, articles, reports, books, etc).

OR

- 3. Proposition: "The ability to commercialise intellectual property is not fettered by considerations of competition law, because intellectual property is a legislatively backed form of monopoly interest." Discuss.

(Here, you will need to draw on your knowledge gained in this unit (particularly week 12) to take a stand for or against the proposition and present a compelling argument justifying your position. You will need to explain the nature of the Australian intellectual property system, licensing terms, and the policy intersections (if any) with the Australian competition law system. Your treatment of this proposition could, for example, focus on critical analysis of Australian IP licensing case law demonstrating your point, being discussed fully with reference to any relevant competition policy; or your treatment of this proposition might critically analyse a number of different terms in IP licence agreements that may or may not attract the interest of competition regulators, and the appropriateness of the competition regulators' approach to the issue. You will need to support your argument with appropriate research, citing legislation, case law, articles, reports, books, etc).

Assessment Criteria

	High Distinction	Distinction	Credit	Pass	Fail
Formulation of argument for essays	Well-crafted argument that evidences a mastery of relevant legal and or issues. May make astute observations on pertinent social, cultural or ethical factors that bear directly upon the issue, while remaining concise. Logically persuasive line of reasoning on the topic(s) chosen.	Argument identifies all or almost all of the relevant issues and is progressed in a forthright, convincing manner. May make other pertinent connections on the subject matter without digressing into irrelevant issues.	Argument Identifies most of the relevant issues and discusses these with solid competence. May digress into irrelevant areas or show some unwarranted assumptions or leaps of logic.	Argument identifies a many of the relevant issues but may wander off topic or become distracted with irrelevancies.	Argument misses a significant proportion of the issues and/or focuses on irrelevant ones.
Written paper structure, format and writing style. Referencing style.	Exceptionally well written: clear, concise, free of spelling, grammatical errors; consistent and accurate referencing using the Australian Guide to Legal Citation (AGLC). Possibly with extra creative flair.	Very well written: clear, free of spelling, grammatical errors; consistent and accurate referencing using AGLC.	Overall well written: clear, mostly free of spelling, grammatical errors; mostly consistent and accurate referencing using AGLC.	Adequately written: may lack consistency; digresses; needs to develop ideas. Inconsistent or inaccurate use of AGLC.	Simplistic; tends to summarize; illogical or poorly developed ideas; many grammatical, spelling errors; too longwinded; little use of AGLC).
Written advice (if relevant to assessment)	Clear mastery of all suggested aspects of advice, comprehensive research to support advice, taking account of all practical legal and business issues. Demonstrates exceptional insights of benefit to the client's strategy and practice.	Very well written advice, demonstrating a high level of understanding of all issues, with commendable level of supporting research. Demonstrates valuable insights for client's strategy and practice.	Overall well written advice, demonstrating a good level of understanding of the issues, with a good level of supporting research. Demonstrates some insights for the client.	Adequately written advice covering most issues, with a sound level of research.	Simplistic advice, missing most or all of the issues, or incorrectly advising the client. Little evidence of independent research.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
