Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback, emails, class interactions

Feedback

Third-year students have responded well to teaching and advice about legal practice issues.

Recommendation

Classes should routinely incorporate advice on legal practice issues. This can include not only advice on how legal actions themselves occur in practice, but also advice on client reactions to certain real life scenarios, like their business going broke, and issues of client management.

Feedback from Self-reflection on tutorial classes and students' answers to assessment questions.

Feedback

Although this is a third-year unit, students' adherence to the logical principles of IRAC reasoning seems to lapse at critical moments.

Recommendation

The logical principles of IRAC need to be emphasised not as a formatting method but as a logical, reasoning process. In particular, there needs to be a focus on clearly identifying real issues in a problem and working through all relevant conditions of legal rules.

Feedback from Review and reflection on students' answers to assessment questions.

Feedback

Students display a misguided reliance on randomly searched Internet sources to answer assessment questions.

Recommendation

The unit coordinator should emphasise in classes and assessment guidances that assessments are designed to assess the students' learning of the unit material, not their ability to look up the Internet, and over-reliance on the Internet is likely to lead to failure.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Explain and advise on the structure and set-up of different business organisations and their internal governance, rights, duties and termination procedures.
2. Explain and advise on the legal relationship between business organisations, third parties, external administrators (if any), and regulatory authorities.
3. Explain and advise on company finance and the regulation of markets for the issue, sale and purchase of company securities.

Assessment Tasks

1 Assignment Task (50 %)

Assessment Type

Practical Assessment

Task Description

This is a research-based assignment based on solving a problem and providing a legal opinion to, and advocacy for, a client on an issue in Corporations Law. Details of the Unit Learning Outcomes assessed by this assignment are set out below. The assessment will be a video-based task this semester that will test students' advocacy skills. More specific details of the assessment, including detailed instructions for the assessment task and the marking criteria are available via Moodle.

The submission for this assignment is online via the Moodle subject page (Assignment Inbox will be available via Moodle).

Late penalties are applied where students do not submit by the due date (or where you have been granted an extension and submit beyond the extended due date). Late penalties are 5% of the total available marks per day or part day. Students may request an extension beyond the due date for submission through Moodle. Any application for an extension must be made before the due date and must be made via the University's online system. Applications made via email will not be considered. Extension requests must comply with the Assessment Policy and Procedure (Higher Education Coursework).

Assessment Criteria

The assignment tests the following Unit Learning Outcomes:

- Identification of legal and ethical issues involved and use of relevant authorities (ULOs 2, 3, 4 and 8)
- Apply relevant facts to interpretation of the law; reflection and critical thinking - use of legal principles and deductive reasoning to solve problems (ULOs 2, 3 and 4)
- Quality of communication, including ability to advocate for a client (ULO 1)
- Research skills and use of appropriate legal authority (ULO 4)

The assessment is marked across each ULO and using a marking rubric (supplied via Moodle) using the University's grading scale (which is as follows):

84.5%+

Excellent writing style - concise, clear, logical and well-organised. You have identified all the correct issues, demonstrated an exceptional understanding of the relevant law (and always support your accurate statements of law with the most appropriate authority); applied the law to the facts in a manner that is outstandingly thorough, precise, and focused; arguing with clarity; and including in your answer an insightful analysis of the more difficult or obscure aspects of the problem. Very few or no spelling or grammatical errors. Very few or no errors in referencing style. Displays excellent research skills.

75-84%

Very good writing style, with only a few expression issues. You have identified the correct issues frequently, have explained the relevant law thoroughly and precisely (frequently supporting your statements of law with the most appropriate authority); applied the law to the facts of the problem in a way that demonstrates an ability to very competently use the law to solve problems; and made a clear argument. The assignment is logical and structured. Few spelling and grammatical errors and few errors in referencing style. Displays very good research skills.

64.5-74%

Good writing style. You have identified most of the correct issues, have explained the relevant law thoroughly and precisely (usually supporting your statements of law with the most appropriate authority); applied the law to the facts of the problem in a way that demonstrates an ability to competently use the law to solve problems; and made an appropriate argument. May be some grammar and spelling errors and/or some errors in referencing. Displays good research skills.

49.5-64%

Generally adequate writing style. Some grammar and spelling errors and/or some errors in referencing. You have identified the main issues, but at times you have dealt with irrelevant issues or expressed them inaccurately or unclearly or in insufficient depth; you have explained the main relevant laws (usually supported by relevant, but not necessarily the most appropriate authority); made a satisfactory attempt to apply the law to the facts of the problem (but sometimes inconsistently); and made a competent argument. Displays adequate research skills.

Less than 49.5%

Poor writing style, poorly organised and difficult to understand manner of expression. Long convoluted sentence structure, numerous grammar and spelling errors. Numerous errors in referencing. The assignment may be significantly shorter than required length. You missed the main issues and have explained the relevant law in a way that is completely or partially incorrect; you may have misunderstood the facts or failed to satisfactorily apply the law to the facts of the problem; and/or presented an unjustified, illogical, inappropriate or impractical conclusion. Research skills require improvement.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
