General Information

Overview

LAWS13010 Evidence and Proof examines the major features of evidence law and procedure, both statutory and common law, and the major sources of judicial interpretation relevant to a general study of the role, sources and foundation of the law of evidence and a trial procedure, of pre-trial obligations and of rules concerning the burden and standard of proof. Specific topics include: The relevant sources of the law of evidence and procedure; fair trials, proof and adversarialism, including principles underpinning accusatorial justice; Evidentiary issues to be addressed before trial: disclosure, notices and requests; forms of evidence; evidentiary principles and rules, and exceptions to the rules; the bases for privilege including legal professional and client privilege; judicial warnings, comment and directions; and mandatory and discretionary exclusions and the limitations on evidence. This unit meets the LPAB requirements for evidence. This unit also carries content to support Criminal Procedure.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit evaluation data

Feedback

Students were generally pleased with the timely release of results and comments were made for more notice in relation to final assessment task/take home paper

Recommendation

Efforts should be made to always release assessment results for the first and second assessment tasks within 2 weeks of the deadline and students should be well informed of when assessment results would be available from the outset. Students should also be encouraged to actively participate in the Zoom Workshop sessions.

Feedback from Email

Lecture recording for students requiring hearing aid.

Recommendation

There was a student who complained about audio quality of recording and identified this as an issue in a few of the units he was taking. All recordings from Term 3 will be accompanied by transcripts to enhance students' accessibility.

Feedback from Unit evaluation

There was a suggestion for more application to real life situations

Recommendation

The course is already substantially designed to reflect a wide range of real life circumstances of relevance to Evidence Law. There is however room for improvement in this area. Given the very practical oriented nature of the course, future iterations of the course will tilt more towards practical application, real life scenarios and practice-oriented assessments.
