Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student evaluations

Feedback

Students appreciated the practical nature of the assignment, but were sometimes unsure how to answer the practical component.

Recommendation

We should persist with authentic style assessments, but consider how we can enhance the instructions to support this learning experience. The thinking part of the assessment is up to the students, but the approach to that thinking task can be clarified in the instructions.

Feedback from Marker, self-reflection

Feedback

Students fail to properly address the questions in the assessments and instead try to turn assessments into a regurgitation exercise.

Recommendation

The UC needs to address with teachers how to increase the amount of written practice incorporated into classes, and stress the fact that answers need to be coherent attempts to address issues, not just regurgitation of law or copied answers from other sources. The tutorials as designed allow scope for such practice. For distance students, the UC needs to promote and encourage students to submit written tutorial answers to get feedback throughout the term.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Describe and explain the various business structures considered in the court
2. Locate, interpret and analyse various sections of legislation applicable to corporations and other business structures
3. Apply your knowledge of law to particular fact situations relevant to the unit so that the legal issues raised are discussed coherently and reasonable conclusions are reached.

Assessment Tasks

1 Individual assignment

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

The assignment will be an exercise in planning and conducting an interview with the client in which you will advise the client on an appropriate business structure for his/her new business. The detail of the assignment will be provided on the Moodle site. The assignment will take you through the following steps:

- working out what law is relevant to a client who is considering a decision on what business structure to adopt;
- working out what information you need to get from the client in the interview to make a recommendation about a business structure;
- working out what questions to ask the client to obtain that information;
- conducting the interview with the client (who will be a real person acting as a pretend client) to obtain the requisite information;
- advising the client on the law;
- weighing up the options for the client based on the information that the client provided; and
- making a recommendation about a business structure based on the information that the client provided.

Assessment Due Date

Week 6 Thursday (27 Aug 2020) 11:45 pm AEST

Weighting

40%

Assessment Criteria

The assignment contains several stages in which different skills will be developed and assessed. Clearly, legal research skills will be important, because a professional cannot give inaccurate advice, but the main focus will be on practical skills such as:

- ability to put oneself in the place of the client to appreciate the problem from the client's perspective;
- insight into how legal differences between business structures can have practical impacts on businesses;

- ability to judge what law is relevant to the client's decision making process and what law is not;
- ability to weigh up multiple alternatives and make a professional judgment about a recommendation;
- ability to explain that weighing up process and the argument for the recommendation so that the client can understand it;
- ability to express oneself in a professional manner to a fellow professional, and in a plain English manner to a client.

These criteria overlap in practice so they will not be allocated separate marks. The description of the assignment on the Moodle site will contain a detailed rubric.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
