General Information

Overview

Shakespeare wrote about timeless themes concerning life and the human experience. In the perpetually changing world in which we live, many of these universal themes remain as relevant today as they were in Elizabethan times. In this unit, you will investigate Shakespeare's insights into what it is to be human by studying a selection of contemporary filmic adaptations of his Elizabethan plays using textual and film analysis techniques. You will also investigate a range of issues and themes relevant to the study of Shakespeare and consider how contemporary practices have shaped our interpretations of Shakespeare's works.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.
