Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

The co-ordinator was very responsive in her emails and was able to clarify questions regarding the content.

Recommendation

To continue to ensure that all phone and email inquiries are responded to thoroughly and in a timely manner.

Feedback

The structured study guides and lectures - I felt that they tied in well. And then we were given chapters to read - which really helped cement the new information.

Recommendation

To continue to ensure that the theoretical content is delivered in a structured and easy to follow way.

Feedback

At times I felt a little oversaturated with information and readings.

Recommendation

In future care will be taken to limit the number of additional readings required each week. Only essential readings will be included in the study guides and 'further reading' will be placed in a separate folder.

Written Assessment

Task Description

Length: 2500 word (+ or - 10%)

Weighting: 40%

Due Date: Friday 23/04/2021 (week 6) at 23:55 hours

Learning outcomes assessed:

1. 1. Describe the anatomy and physiology of human reproduction, pregnancy, birth and lactation.
1. 2. Explain the role of the midwife in promoting and facilitating normal processes of the childbearing continuum using the Australian College of Midwives 'National Midwifery Guidelines for Consultation and Referral'.
1. 3. Explore and apply current evidence associated with the provision of midwifery care.

Aim

The aim of this assessment is to enhance your understanding of the normal physiological changes that occur during the childbearing continuum. It is expected that you will utilise the Australian College of Midwives 'National Midwifery Guidelines for Consultation and Referral' and other relevant current evidence associated with the provision of women centred midwifery care to support your discussion.

Instructions:

Write an essay that addresses the case study below from the point-of-view of the midwife. Although at times medical interventions may be necessary, in this case you must clearly show where appropriate, the midwife's role and responsibilities in the multidisciplinary care of this woman. The essay will discuss the physiological changes during pregnancy that are suspected to cause anaemia, explore the potential risks associated with anaemia during pregnancy, and outline the evidence-based advice you would provide surrounding ways to alleviate the symptoms of anaemia and increase the woman's haemoglobin level.

Case Study

Annabelle is a 27-year-old woman who is attending your midwifery led antenatal clinic at 30 weeks gestation. Annabelle tells you that she has been feeling tired and experiences episodes of dizziness when she stands up quickly. When you check Annabelle's blood results you note that her last Haemoglobin level, checked at 28 weeks gestation was 100 g/L.

Discuss the physiological changes during pregnancy that are suspected to cause anaemia.

Explore the potential risks associated with anaemia during pregnancy.

Outline the evidence-based advice you would give to Annabelle surrounding ways to alleviate her symptoms of anaemia and to increase her haemoglobin level.

To pass this assessment item you must:

- Demonstrate your understanding of the concepts learnt throughout this course.
- Use an academic approach to answer all components of this assessment including an introduction, body and conclusion.
- Demonstrate that you have researched the relevant issues present.
- Show that you have read widely and analysed the gathered information, ensuring that it is applicable, evidence-based and up to date.

Requirements:

- In relation to using an academic approach:
 - Your introduction will outline the key points of your essay.
 - The body of the literature review will cover all the elements of your discussion.
- Your conclusion will provide an overall summary of your main points with no new information or references.

- It is an expectation that the references used will be recent journal articles, five years or less since publication and reference books are to be no older than ten years, unless seminal works. Correct referencing is to be utilised throughout the body of work.
- A reference list is required at the end of the assessment.
- A title page is required that includes the students name, student number, due date, word count and course coordinator's name.
- The current American Psychological Association (APA) referencing style is a requirement. Poor referencing is unacceptable at postgraduate level study. Please use the seventh edition American Psychological Association (APA) referencing style. The CQUniversity Academic Learning Centre has an online APA Referencing Style Guide.

• Resources

- Before commencing the assessment students are required to read the marking rubric for the assessment.
- You can use unit provided materials and other credible sources (e.g. journal articles, books, grey literature) to reference your argument. The quality and credibility of your sources are important.
- We recommend that you access your discipline specific library guide: the Nursing and Midwifery Guide; Social Work and Community Services Guide.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
