You will also gain a greater understanding of your role as a midwife, caring for women from diverse backgrounds.

Instructions:

You are required to participate in an online group discussion via the Moodle discussion forum, which will be directed by the Unit Coordinator. The online activities will require you to participate in a group discussion based on topics in your study guide on 3 set weeks over the term. Marks will be awarded as per the marking rubric. Give your professional opinion and write a discussion, using professional and academic dialogue that is supported by evidence.

What strategies can midwives and maternity services implement to assist both physically and intellectually disabled women and families with the responsibilities of early parenthood? What services are available at your clinical setting to assist disabled mothers?

Week 8 Topic: Review box 9.1 on page 160 of Midwifery Preparation for Practice 4th ed. and consider these statistics, the availability of maternity services in regional, rural and remote Australia and the impact of colonisation on Australian indigenous people. ### Aim:

The aim of this assessment is to gain an insight and understanding of cultural issues relevant to women and their families, who are from culturally and psychosocially diverse backgrounds, which may impact the provision of high quality maternity care and midwifery practice.

Instructions

This assessment requires you to interview a woman who is culturally and or psychosocially diverse. For example, she could be an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person, a refugee or migrant, have a disability, or be in a same-sex partnership/marriage. You are to explore with her what their culture means to them, what cultural considerations are important to her and her childbearing and mothering experience in relation to this. She may have prior birthing experience that you wish to explore with her in regards to the psychosocial factors that impacted them.

Please follow the steps below to complete your assessment task:

1. Obtain the woman's consent in writing, see attached document. You will give her a pseudonym to protect her privacy.
2. Conduct an interview which should be no longer than 20 minutes.
3. Record the interview and then transcribe it.
4. Listen to the interview and identify the main themes that arise in the interview in relation to the woman's experience of culture, childbirth and early parenting. From the identified themes explore the role of the midwife in the provision of culturally appropriate care and support services to this woman. Provide in your discussion the key challenges, barriers, issues, and facilitators associated with culturally and/or psychosocially diverse women, their families, and communities.
5. Your submission includes the consent form, interview transcript and recording and your accompanying essay.

**Please note that your interview recording will not be marked but must be submitted as evidence that you have completed the task. You can record your interview using a smart phone, tablet or mobile device. You will upload the recording to Google Drive and you will provide the link to your recording at the bottom of your transcript Word Doc. The instructions for undertaking this are here:

3 Assessment Three: Written Essay

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Assessment 3- Written Essay

Due date: Time (18:00) 11/02/2022 (Week 12)

Weighting: 40%

Length: 2500 words

Unit Coordinator: Bridget Ferguson

Learning Outcomes Assessed

- 3. Explore the psychosocial factors which may impact the childbearing woman and her family including perinatal mental health, domestic violence and substance misuse.
- 4. Explore the midwife's role in providing support services to women from culturally and socially diverse backgrounds.

Task Description

In Australia, domestic and family violence (DFV) against women is a significant public health and social problem. Pregnancy and early parenthood are an "at risk" time, associated with either commencement of, or increase in domestic violence. Pregnancy and early parenthood are opportune times for early detection and intervention as women have increased contact with health professionals such as midwives.

Aim:

This assessment gives you the opportunity to explore the statistics and factors associated with domestic violence in Australia, gain an understanding of the screening, services, and strategies employed to address DFV and the role of the midwife in caring for women experiencing DFV.

Instructions

This assessment requires you to:

Review, analyse and discuss the current Australian statistics on DFV, factors associated with DFV, and effects of DFV during pregnancy for the mother and fetus.

Identify, examine, and describe perinatal screening for DFV, perinatal and postnatal services and interventions for responding to DFV in pregnancy.

Discuss the role of the midwife in working with women experiencing DFV & Provide recommendations for supporting midwives to competently care for women experiencing DFV.

Literature and references

In this assessment you may use contemporary references (<5 years) to support your discussion. You may also use seminal scholarly literature where relevant. Suitable references include peer-reviewed journal articles as well as textbooks and credible websites. When sourcing information, consider the five elements of a quality reference: currency, authority, relevance, objectivity, and coverage. Grey literature sourced from the internet must be from reputable websites such as from government, university, or peak national bodies: for example, the Australian College of Midwives.

Requirements

- Use a conventional and legible size 12 font, such as Times New Roman or Arial
- Write in the third-person perspective.
- Use professional and academic language.
- Use the seventh edition American Psychological Association (APA) referencing style. The CQUniversity Academic Learning Centre has an online APA Referencing Style Guide.
- The word count is considered from the first word of each blog/post to the last word of the blog/post. The word count excludes the reference list but includes in-text references and direct quotations.

Resources

- You can use unit provided materials and other credible sources (e.g. journal articles, books) to reference your argument. The quality and credibility of your sources are important.
- We recommend that you access your discipline specific library guide: Midwifery Resource Guide.
- We recommend you use EndNote to manage your citations and reference list. More information on how to use EndNote is available at the CQUniversity Library website.
- For information on academic communication please go to the Academic Learning Centre Moodle site. The Academic Communication section has many helpful resources including information for students with English as a second language.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.
