Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

I especially enjoyed reading through the assignment in regard to the coroners case as I felt it aided in my professional practice in recognising and learning what not to do and the consequences of not abiding to the policies and procedures

Recommendation

Continue to provide interesting and clinically relevant assessments.

Feedback

Continuity of care. This was a great experience which I could learn many things throughout the care of the women. Also the assessment task "coroner's report" helped me to review and consolidate the learning contents of the entire midwifery course.

Recommendation

Continue to provide Continuity of Care experiences to midwifery students.

Feedback

This unit really challenges and probes our critical thinking skills in linking all we have learnt over the degree to how we would challenge adversity in our careers. I really appreciate that it teaches us those skills, rather than just teaching us "what policy says". As always the content has been challenging but not impossible, and the convenors/lecturers easily approachable and willing to engage in my learning. Also, the new module platform is so much better!!

Recommendation

Continue to provide quality learning and teaching material that aligns to clinical practice to enhance the development of midwifery practice.

Feedback

2 days a week prac is so valuable! This became so evident when prac was cancelled due to covid as I really missed the consolidation of learning that occurs when you get regular clinical experience.

Recommendation

Continue to provide flexibility in placement opportunity to students and industry providers.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

none, was a great subject thank you for the ongoing support especially during the Covid panic

Recommendation

Continue to provide fast and flexible support to students during times of crisis and hardship.

Assessment Tasks

1 Assessment 1: Reflective Portfolio

Assessment Type

Portfolio

Task Description

Assessment 1 - Reflective Portfolio

Type: Written assessment: ongoing reflective journal

Due date: 18:00 hrs AEST 4/06/2021 (week 12)

Weighting: 40%

Length: N/A. Each journal entry should be approximately 400 words however labour and birth reflections can be longer.

Unit Coordinator: Robyn Buis

Learning Outcomes Assessed:

1. Demonstrate safe and effective midwifery care at the level of a competent beginning midwife.
2. Reflect on clinical learning and midwifery practice.
3. Demonstrate midwifery competence based upon the Nursing and Midwifery Board Australia (NMBA) requirements.

Aim:

The aim of this assessment is to allow you to demonstrate reflective practice.

Reflective practice is a key element that contributes to the NMBA Midwife Standards for Practice. It is through reflective processes that both students and registered midwives can identify and explore diverse values, beliefs, learning needs and sociocultural structures.

Overview of Reflective Journal Writing

A reflective journal is a way of thinking in a critical and analytical way about your clinical experience. It involves looking at a situation, assessing what you have learnt from it, what you could have done differently, realising new approaches to your care and ultimately, how you felt about the whole experience. As a student midwife it shows how different aspects of your work interconnect and can be very useful for identifying gaps in knowledge and ethical dilemmas or situations that need further thought.

Understanding your feelings is a vital skill for reflective writing, and studying midwifery involves being exposed to many new situations - doing your first antenatal booking; helping a woman with breastfeeding support; witnessing a birth - which can bring new reactions to the surface. It's important to comprehend what you feel, why you feel that way and to then learn from it, as failing to reflect can lead to poor insight and therefore poor performance in practice (Hays & Gay, 2011).

Reflective writing is more personal than other kinds of academic writing and is an exploration of events not just a description of them.

Instructions

1. You are required to complete a reflective piece of writing for a minimum of 10 continuity of care cases, including each of the four (4) newly recruited women from term three (3).
 2. By week 12 you need to have completed 10 comprehensive reflective journals that include a minimum of:
 - 4 antenatal visits
 - labour & Birth/intrapartum care of at least 6 women
 - 2 postnatal visits
- You must have spent a minimum of 10 hours with each woman.

Please upload your minimum of 10 completed journals to the Bachelor of Midwifery (Graduate Entry) meta page

Reflective Journal Requirements

Refer to the provided Reflective Journal Template and the Two Reflective Journal examples.

Journal entries are your written reflections of face to face or telehealth episodes of care with the recruited Continuity of Care woman. Phone calls, emails, text messages or any other form of communication other than face to face contact or telehealth is not acceptable. *If you are experiencing COVID-19 restrictions in the clinical area and this impedes face to face contact please contact the unit coordinator to discuss your options well before the due date.

How to structure reflective writing

It can be useful to use a reflective model, or series of questions, which will help you look at the whole event from many different angles (Macdonald, 2011; Driscoll, 1994; Benner, 1984). The Driscoll model has a very simple 'what', 'so what' and 'now what' model, which is easy to remember and write up. There are three common reflective writing models that you may choose to follow when writing reflectively: Van Manen, Gibbs and Durgahee (Giminez, 2019). The models all involve thinking systematically about the phases of an activity, using headings including description, feelings, evaluation, analysis, conclusion and action plan. These theoretical frameworks provide a starting point for the critical skills that all student midwives should develop by the end of their educational program.

Example:

1. Description: (do not make this too long - refer to the provided template).

What is it? What happened? Why am I talking about it?

2. Interpretation: What is important and relevant? Look through your description and try to find words or phrases that require further exploration. Include the rationale for what was done or why it was done. Where there is controversy about what was done or found, provide the rationale and sources of evidence for both sides of the argument. How can it be explored and explained using contemporary theories?

3. Outcome: What have I learned from this? How will it influence my future work?

Above all, enjoy writing the journal - it is about you and your reflection and your development as a clinical midwife!

Literature and references

In this assessment you may use contemporary references (<5 years) to support your reflective writing. You may also use seminal scholarly literature where relevant. Suitable references include peer-reviewed journal articles as well as textbooks and credible websites. When sourcing information, consider the five elements of a quality reference: currency, authority, relevance, objectivity, and coverage. Grey literature sourced from the internet must be from reputable websites such as from government, university, or peak national bodies: for example, the Australian College of Midwives.

Requirements

- Each CoC woman must have their own individual journal in Word Doc. Format and be uploaded as an individual file to the Bachelor of Midwifery Meta page.

2 Coroner's Report and Audio PresentationAssessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Assessment 2 – Coroners Case.

Type: Written assessment and Audio presentation.

Due date: 18:00 hrs 18/05/2021 (week 10)

Weighting: 60%

Length: 2000 words

Unit Coordinator: Robyn Buis

Learning Outcomes Assessed:

1. Demonstrate safe and effective midwifery care at the level of a competent beginning midwife.
2. Reflect on clinical learning and midwifery practice

Aim:

The aim of this assessment is to critically analyse and reflect upon a Coroner's case report, then apply your midwifery knowledge to the case and provide alternative midwifery actions that are justified by the evidence. This assessment will provide you with an opportunity to disseminate your findings verbally.

Instructions:

In this assessment, you are required to examine a Coroner's Report. This Report is from August 2020, pertaining to events from December 2012 and relates to the case of Baby C. Baby C and his mother were under the antenatal, intrapartum and postnatal care of maternity health services at a Queensland Health hospital, and, according to the facts before the coroner, Baby C died as a result of meconium aspiration syndrome and persistent pulmonary hypertension.

In this assessment you are asked to follow the pregnancy, intrapartum and postnatal journey provided in the report, examine what occurred, and perhaps most importantly, provide alternative midwifery actions that may have led to a different outcome. These actions may include multidisciplinary collaboration and communication, maternal and foetal assessment, provision of evidence based care, education, advocacy for the mother and foetus, and partner involvement. As part of this assignment you are expected to review current (5 years) peer reviewed evidence, policy and guidelines on induction of labour and electronic fetal monitoring (EFM), identify the benefits, prohibitors and risk factors for both. It is also expected that you will identify early warning signs of maternal and foetal deterioration during pregnancy, labour and birth and postnatally and discuss clinical midwifery interventions to mitigate this.

Please follow the steps below to complete your assessment task:

Part 1: Written component.

1. Download the Coroner's report.
2. Utilising a timeline of the labour/birth events and considering antenatal events, highlight the critical areas where you consider the maternity care was not evidence based. Identify critical incidents where effective communication and clinical midwifery intervention would have been appropriate. Outline what appropriate midwifery interventions would be at that critical point in the timeline and how you as a practising registered midwife would have intervened. You will need to support your argument with appropriate current evidence.
3. Utilising current (last 5 years) literature provide an overview of the appropriate use of induction of labour and electronic fetal monitoring (EFM). The discussion should include the benefits and risks relating to induction of labour and EFM. Include this information in your assessment piece.

Part 2 Audio component

1. Provide an audio recording of yourself undertaking a five-minute talk that could be used for education with colleagues at a Grand Round. Base your talk on this Coroner's Report and the salient learnings from this for registered midwives.
2. Your talk should be approximately five minutes long but no longer than 10 minutes. It should include the timeline, what in your opinion went wrong and how to prevent a tragedy like Baby C's death from re-occurring in the future, viewed from a midwifery perspective and using current evidence. In essence this is a summarisation of Part 1.

Tips and resources on how to upload your talk will be made available on your Moodle site and in an assignment guide. An audio exemplar is provided on the Moodle page.

In this assessment you are to use contemporary references (<5 years) to support your writing. You may also use seminal scholarly literature where relevant. Suitable references include peer-reviewed journal articles as well as textbooks and credible websites. Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own
