MEDI12002 Imaging Science 2

Term 1 - 2025

Profile information current as at 15/11/2024 04:17 pm

All details in this unit profile for MEDI12002 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit focuses on the main steps in producing a useful digital radiograph. You will learn to control the x-ray beam's production and passage through the structures by judicious selection of technical factors. You will learn to control scatter radiation and recognise its impact on radiographs. You will harness image geometry concepts to control structural appearances on radiographs. You will explore basic concepts of digital imaging technology with a focus on clinical skill in the production, display, manipulation, storage and distribution of digital radiographs. You will become familiar with the attributes of radiographic image quality and the many factors that impact on those attributes.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback

Week 12 use of lab time for students to work on test style questions and tutorial time to work through the answers to these questions was well received.

Recommendation

Consider maintaining the use of class time to practice test style questions in the week prior to the assessment in future iterations.

Feedback from Staff observation.

Feedback

Use of pre-lab videos improved lab preparation with students being more aware of how the lab activities were to be carried out, and having a better understanding of how the unit content related to the lab activity.

Recommendation

Explore the option to continue the use of lab preparation videos in future deliveries.
