Profile information current as at 19/08/2022 06:07 pm

All details in this unit profile for MGMT11167 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). ## General Information

Overview

Social innovation is the development and implementation of innovative, transformative, and sustainable solutions to social problems. The challenges facing our world such as poverty, disease, and climate change are more complex than ever before. Sustainable, effective solutions require interdisciplinary thinking and cross-sector collaboration. This unit will develop your understanding of social empathy and provide you with foundational skills to diagnose structural inequalities that contribute to social problems. You will apply action learning and case study analysis to examine social, environmental and economic sustainability challenges. Finally you will examine some of the solutions that have already been implemented as organisations, communities and individuals consider ways to benefit society and improve lives.

Assessment Tasks

1 Analysis of a wicked problem

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

This assignment is due in Week 6, Friday, midday.

Describe and analyse a 'wicked problem' of either local, national or global relevance. Canvass at least one campaign, policy approach or intervention that has been launched to overcome this problem, evidence the degree to which this succeeded, and identify and provide evidence of at least one unintended consequence of this attempt to address the problem.

The assignment should not exceed 2000 words, and should draw on credible written evidence, including scholarly books and articles, non-scholarly books and book chapters, and credible media sources (a minimum of 10 scholarly references are required). This assignment requires you to show evidence that you understand the term 'wicked problem' and are able to relate that definition to a 'real world' wicked problem, using evidence you've gathered through your own readings of the scholarly or other science literature. You can make use of reputable media sources as part of your case, but a preference should be given to either scholarly (peer-reviewed) papers, scientific reports (e.g. from United Nations bodies or the CSIRO), or reputable government or non-government reports. Unintended consequences of policy solutions are not easy to find, therefore we encourage you to think through what MIGHT be an unintended (negative or positive) consequence to a campaign designed to tackle a wicked problem. Once you have identified a likely candidate for an unintended consequence, you should be able to find some plausible good quality evidence to show that such a consequence may have transpired.

The format of this assignment is a formal essay or report. There is no 'right' structure, but the assessment item should be clearly and logically structured, and can be illustrated with graphs, figures or tables as required. Using sub-headings to help organise your work is encouraged, but not required.

Assessment Due Date

Week 6 Friday (28 Aug 2020) 12:00 pm AEST

Please note that the time for submission is the middle of the day. This provides the opportunity for the unit coordinator and TASAC to assist students who may have difficulties submitting their assignments.

Return Date to Students

Week 8 Friday (11 Sept 2020)

Every effort will be made to return your assignment BEFORE the date indicated. You will find your mark and feedback through the Feedback Studio portal on Moodle.

Weighting

30%

Assessment Criteria

1. Critical Insight (15 marks)

- To what degree have you explored the problem and its underlying causes?
- To what degree have you explored the campaign, policy approach or intervention that has been launched to overcome this problem?
- To what degree have you been able to identify a likely or evidenced unintended consequence or consequences?

2. Evidence (10 marks)

- Is this insight linked to evidence drawn from quality sources (as defined in the task description)?
- Has a minimum of ten such quality sources been properly used (that is understood, discussed, and referenced)?
- Have you demonstrated the ability to evaluate the quality of the evidence?

3. Presentation and communication (5 marks)

- Have you presented the wicked problem, responses and unintended consequences in a clear way?
- Have you checked your work and ensured it has minimal errors and is consistently and clearly formatted?
- In cases where you have used additional materials (e.g. graphs), do these additional materials add value to your case?
- Does your submission show appropriate and accurate (APA) referencing?

2 Group Presentation of Traditional Versus Social Innovation Interventions

Assessment Type

Presentation and Written Assessment

Task Description

This is a group assignment, and class presentations associated with this assignment will commence in the second half of the term. The objective of this assignment is to show your emerging understanding of the distinction between traditional and social innovation interventions to wicked problems and to hone your ability to work in a group and present good quality evidence in a public setting.

For this assignment you'll be asked (along with a group of up to three fellow students) to give a ten-minute oral, in-class presentation (for online students this will be via a Zoom meeting organised by the unit coordinator). The presentation will be followed by questions from your lecturer and fellow students. You'll be expected to support your presentation with visual/written aids, preferably PowerPoint. Each student in your group should contribute to the development and delivery of the presentation and the documents uploaded to Moodle. You will be expected to provide a clear overview of which team member contributed which element to the final presentation (not just the oral delivery). In addition, the slides must be accompanied by evidence (for example in the PowerPoint Notes) to expand on the evidence in the slide itself. Each slide note should indicate the identity of the team member who primarily contributed to that slide and the collection of evidence presented in that slide.

The topic will be your choice of a significant social problem, and it should not be a problem which one of your group members is including in their Assignment 1 task. In your group presentation, you will briefly describe, followed by a contrast between a traditional approach and a new, social innovation approach to countering the problem. The social innovation approach (unlike the traditional approach) can be either a hypothetical solution, or one that has been tried. In either case, you'll be expected to explain the strengths and weaknesses of the two approaches (traditional and social innovation approach) and why one approach may be more appropriate than the other. You will be expected, as with Assessment 1, to present good quality evidence to back up the statements made on your slides and in your oral presentation.

We recommend that you meet with your group early in the term, break up the tasks fairly between the group members, and then meet regularly to ensure that the final product is a seamless combination of the work you have done. So presentations that show evidence of the team working together to produce a single, well structured 'line of thought' will be marked higher than disorganised and repetitive presentations.

Please consult with your on-campus lecturer to form groups by the end of week 4. Note that presentations begin in week 6 and end in week 12. If you have a preference for the week in which your group presents, please negotiate this early with your lecturer.

Assessment Due Date

Week 6 Monday (24 Aug 2020) 12:00 pm AEST

Ongoing weekly presentations, given in class or via Zoom. Note that presentations begin in week 6 and end in week 12. If you have a preference for the week in which your group presents, please negotiate this early with your on-campus lecturer.

Return Date to Students

Students will be given verbal feedback in class (or via Zoom) and then marks will be released in Week 12

Weighting

30%

Assessment Criteria

Analysis (16 marks)

- The ability to analyse wicked problems, and accurately and clearly distinguish between traditional and social innovation approaches to solutions.
- The ability to explain the strengths and weaknesses of the two approaches (traditional and social innovation approach).
- Clear explanation of why the traditional or social innovation approach may be a better way to address the wicked problem.

Evidence (7 marks):

- Are the visual and verbal elements of the presentation backed up by good quality evidence?
- Have you demonstrated the ability to evaluate the quality of the evidence?

Presentation quality (7 marks): Presentation quality is assessed on the following factors:

- Clarity and persuasiveness of communication and presentation skills.
- Quality, including clarity of slides. Please check your submission for errors before presenting and uploading.
- Lack of repetition and smooth sequence of argument.
- Where required, are the arguments accompanied by appropriate referencing of sources?

The slides and accompanying notes should be submitted by the group leader through the link provided, with the first slide clearly identifying the group members (including student numbers). Include a page with details on group member participation.

3 Portfolio of reflections on social innovation readings and audiovisual material

Assessment Type

Portfolio

Task Description

This assignment is due on the Friday of Week 12, at midday. You'll be expected to maintain a weekly reflection on what you have been reading and watching/listening from the materials provided in the (free) unit textbook and supplementary materials on the Moodle site. This portfolio asks you to both be a critical consumer of social innovation material, and to reflect honestly on your reaction to the material. It asks you to both describe and summarise what you have been reading, and to accurately attribute your comments to their original sources. You'll be asked to supplement the material from the text and Moodle materials with some additional independent reading (beyond merely the textbook) which further illuminates the points you have drawn from the Moodle/textbook materials.

The portfolio should be not more than 2500 words in length. Focus on the three topics that most affected you in this unit. You should use at least six good quality references (two per topic) beyond those supplied on the unit Moodle site.

Reflection is when you think critically about an experience or a piece of reading material. This critical thinking allows you to gain an understanding of how theory as well as personal, social and cultural experiences relate to practice or professional knowledge.

By reflecting, you are able to:

1. Get to know your own strengths and weaknesses

2. Discover your own underlying assumptions – and challenge them
3. Make connections between your own experience and what you are learning
4. Learn from your mistakes – and thus become a better practitioner.

These four aspects of reflection should be demonstrated in the portfolio.

Assessment Due Date

Week 12 Friday (9 Oct 2020) 12:00 pm AEST

Please note that the time for submission is the middle of the day. This provides the opportunity for the unit coordinator and TASAC to assist students who may have difficulties submitting their assignments.

Return Date to Students

Exam Week Friday (23 Oct 2020)

Although exam week is indicated here, the results of Assessment Item 3 are formally released on the certification of grades. You will not be able to obtain your mark for this assignment before the certification of grades.

Weighting

40%

Assessment Criteria

Reflection (20 marks):

- Demonstration of an understanding of own strengths and weaknesses.
- Discovery of own underlying assumptions and how the material in this unit challenged them
- Demonstration of a connection between own experience and what has been learnt
- Understanding of how you have become a better practitioner by learning from your mistakes.

Critical thinking (5 marks):

- The portfolio demonstrates deeper reflection or thinking beyond the surface content of the material that has been read and referenced in the portfolio.

Theory (5 marks):

- Accurate understanding of the theories and concepts presented in this unit.

Evidence (5 marks):

- The reflections are supported by good quality evidence beyond that supplied on the unit Moodle site.
- At least six good quality references beyond those supplied on the unit Moodle site have been used.

Communication (5 marks): The material is:

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
