General Information

Overview

Entrepreneurship, Innovation and New Ventures encourages exploration of the entrepreneurial function and the development of new business activity. Initiating, developing, and operating a new business involves considerable risk and effort, as new ventures depend on creativity and innovation to proliferate at local, national and global levels. The different applications of entrepreneurship in the unit stress the critical involvement of personal capability and resilience to convert opportunities into commercial reality. The unit focuses on small to medium enterprise (SME) where opportunity recognition, feasibility, and risk management comprise key elements of the entrepreneurial function. The unit also offers a formative basis for future entrepreneurial endeavours across a range of contexts. If you have successfully completed the unit MRKT19034 you should not enrol in this unit.

Assessment Tasks

1 Entrepreneurial Activity Log

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Throughout the term, you are expected to participate in activities relevant to entrepreneurial behaviour. Some activities will happen in class/during online workshops; such as leading an in-class discussion related to a short case study from the text. Other activities will refer to your independent study; such as considering whether you have what it takes to be an entrepreneur!

During and immediately after the activity, you are required to fill in a one-page entrepreneurial activity log using a template provided in Moodle. The log will record your reflections on your learning and development as a potential entrepreneur. Activities and logs are designed to support your preparation for assessments 2 and 3.

In order to successfully complete this assessment, you are required to submit two sets of 3 completed activity logs. The first set is to be submitted no later than Week 4 and the second set no later than Week 9. The specific activities you need to carry out to complete these logs will be discussed and scheduled in Moodle.

2 Business Model Blueprint

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

This assessment requires you to synthesise your business venture ideas and narrow them down to two viable business model blueprints. Using the business model canvass (Osterwalder & Pigneur, 2010) you are required to map the nine business model building blocks to create new mechanisms that create value and derive revenues by meeting unsatisfied, new, or hidden customer needs. Each business model will identify critical assumptions that will influence their success or failure; these might be resource specific or time dependent. Finally, you are to assign a success weighting to each model and identify how you might both mitigate the downside risks and boost the upside potential. The submission is to follow a business report format. Word-length is 1000 (excluding blueprint diagrams).

3 Business Plan & Pitch

Assessment Type

Presentation and Written Assessment

Task Description

Informed by the Business Model Blueprint, your group is required to prepare a business plan using the suggested format provided in Moodle. The business plan is to include a project plan specifying key activities, time frames, and resources required in the first twelve months of the proposed venture. You will then pitch the venture idea in a presentation to your lecturer.

Component 1: The Business Plan

Developing an idea into a successful business requires entrepreneurs to formulate and work through a winning business plan. In essence, a business plan is a written document that presents a clear, realistic and articulate articulation of how the entrepreneur plans to start and grow the business. You are required to prepare a project plan as detailed above. In accordance with the material outlined in the prescribed text, you are required to form groups of a maximum three people to select a business idea or innovation and then collaborate to develop a business plan. This may be an original idea which you intend to take further, or it may be fictitious. Inspiration for business ideas/innovations can come from your personal interests or an existing business. Selections must be registered with the unit coordinator before commencing work on the business plan. The business plan should be no longer than 2000 words excluding project plan, reference list and other appendices as relevant.

Business Plan: 2000 word-length (excluding project plan) (70%): to be submitted 12 February 2018 at 5:00PM

Component 2: The Pitch

Entrepreneurs must be able to articulate the key points of their business plan in verbal form, within a very short time frame (view reality TV show Shark Tank). Pitches must be 3-4 minutes in duration and take place in the Review/Exam week commencing 12 February 2018. A video recording of the pitch must also be submitted (regardless of mode and recorded for uploading to Moodle; Zoom is recommended). The pitch must summarise the key points from the business plan. That means it must present a clear and very concise snapshot of the proposed business idea/innovation.

Business Pitch: 3-4 minutes (maximum) (30%): to be scheduled during Week commencing 12 February 2016.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
