General Information

Overview

This unit is an introduction to inventory management. There may be many inventory managers named as such but there is not a lot of sophisticated professional inventory management. Even where organisations use sophisticated computer systems for inventory management this is no guarantee that inventory management is effective, as with limited skills and knowledge the managers are forced to take a black box approach. This unit is designed to increase awareness of good inventory management practices including the use of packaged computer systems, however it does not deal with mathematical models except at the basic level. This unit is about getting to know more about inventories i.e. what they are, why they are held, how they behave, and of course how they are managed. The complexity of inventory management should not be underestimated. There are many different inventory situations and each inventory situation requires its own system of management. Also resolving issues in particular inventory situations can become quite difficult, because of the conflicting expectations of the providers and the users of those inventories.

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from 'Have Your Say'

Feedback

"I felt that compared to a lot of other courses on Moodle, the lecture recordings are clear and concise"

Recommendation

Maintain the focus of integrating topical Australian issues with discussion of the implications for Inventory Managers.

Feedback from 'Have Your Say'

Feedback

"The Zoom sessions were the best to help us more about assignment specifications"

Recommendation

Maintain the pre-assignment workshop discussions on Zoom and post these to Moodle in both video and audio format.

Feedback from 'Have Your Say'

Feedback

"Assessment detail should be better explained, the questions were a little hard to understand and not specified"

Recommendation

Peer review assessment drafting to clarify any ambiguity.

Feedback from Unit Coordinator perspective

Feedback

Reconsideration of a final exam.

Recommendation

Consideration might be given to replacing the exam with a case study. This will enable a considered integration of frameworks to address practical issues.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
